PLAN FITTING OBSERVANCE OF THANKSGIVING DAY

City Prepares For Observance Of Turkey Day

Hundreds Of Homes To Be Scene Of Family Reunions Thursday

FOOTBALL GAME TO ATTRACT CROWD

New Castle As A City Has Much To Give Thanks For In 1926

In thousands of homes in Lawrence county today there's a savory odor permeating every nook and cranny of the house. The kitchen smells like a combination of all the tasty food you ever ate in your life, and the hallway has a suggestion of something that you've had before, pumpkin pie and whipped cream, or roast turkey or candied sweet potatoes.

For days the housewives have been engaged in their annual rehearsal for the Thanksgiving dinner, and while the eating of it will occupy little more than an hour, the preparation of it takes days. Most of them will be so fed up on smells and tastes that by tomorrow noon, they won't want anything but an easy chair.

Not Much Turkey.

Due to the high prices, many families will be eating turkey that was not long since Plymouth Rock hen. Turkey is so high this year that some of the butchers thought about installing jeweler's scales, and as a result, chickens, ducks, roast pork and "russbiff" will be much in favor.

It's the annual day of thanks to a beneficient Creator, but for the majority of Americans it will be a holiday, a feast day and a day of recreation. Football will attract millions in the afternoon and the theatres will be loaded to the sidewalk.

Navy's Planes Are Making Progress In Flight To Panama

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Commander H. T. Barlett, flying plane No. 2 in the navy's attempted non-stop flight from Hampton Roads to Panama, has been forced down off the Isle of Pines, the navy was advised in a message this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Lieut. B. J. Connell, flying PN-10 plane No. 1 in the navy's attempted non-stop flight from Hampton Roads to Panama, reported in a wireless message timed at 8:20 this morning that he was 145 miles south of the Isle of Pines—considerably less than half way to his destination.

Connell reported that the oil temperature on his starboard motor had gone up.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Averaging 71.5 miles an hour the navy's pair of all-metal seaplanes passed Alligator Reef shortly before 4 o'clock this morning on their attempted non-stop flight from Hampton Roads to Panama, according to a dispatch to the navy department.

Alligator Reef lies 787 nautical miles from Hampton Roads, and is not quite half the total distance to Colon, which the navy estimates at 1789 nautical miles, or 2170 land miles.

The two planes were flying about 20 miles apart when they passed over the reef and headed toward the coast of Cuba. Plane No. 1, piloted by Lieut. B. J. Connell, was in the lead with plane No. 2, piloted by Commander H. T. Bartlett, the flight commander, was trailing.

The planes took off at Hampton Roads at 4:18 and 4:26 p. m. respectively yesterday. They should arrive at Colon this afternoon.

New Opposition Against Coolidge Tax Rebate Plan

Hopes For Enactment Of Rebate Plan At Coming Session Go Glimmering

SENATE LEADERS OPPOSE PLAN

Farm Bloc Leaders Demand Share In Surplus; Democrats Bitter Toward Plan

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—With President Coolidge's tax rebate plan under constant attack from Democratic quarters, administration hopes for its enactment at the coming session of congress practically went glimmering today when fresh opposition developed among senate Republicans.

From among the president's own followers in the senate, there arose demands for abandonment of the tax refund plan and substitution of a program for spending the expected $250,000,000 treasury surplus on internal improvements. Among the projects listed as being of greater benefit to the American people than a tax rebate were farm relief, new public buildings, waterway improvements and reclamation projects.

Farm bloc leaders demand that at least $100,000,000 of the surplus be used to finance a government farm crop export corporation. This tpye of organization was proposed in the McNary-Haugen bill, which met defeat last session but which farm bloc leaders insist must be enacted at the coming session.

HUDSON RIVER BOATS COLLIDE

Hundred Passengers Given Fright, But No One Is Injured

(International News Service)

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Nov. 24. — More than a hundred passengers aboard the Hudson river night boat Trojan running from New York to Albany were severely shaken up early today when their vessel rammed an ocean going freighter belonging to the Fleischman Yeast Co., which was at anchor.

Both vessels were disabled but remained afloat. The Trojan's passengers were transferred to river tugboats and brought to Peekskill, when they were sent by train to Albany.

No one was injured.

Many Frightened

Although many were frightened, there was no panic aboard the Trojan. The majority of the passengers had not yet gone to bed when the collision occurred.

The Trojan was brought to a pier here, but the extent of the damage had not been ascertained.

The Trojan was damaged above the water-line. The night boat was steaming along at fair rate of speed and trembled under the impact.

The frightened passengers ran from their staterooms as the Trojan's commander tugged at the whistle cord and sounded distress signals. The passengers, many of them clad only in sleeping attire, were carried to short on four tugs which dashed to the scene.

Many of the passengers were enroute to up-state towns to spend Thanksgiving Day at home. The women were frightened, but did not become hysterical.

The Trojan was still afloat early this morning. Workmen were endeavoring to patch up the hole in her bow.

Snow Flurries Thanksgiving

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24.—Unless the weather charts are mistaken, western Pennsylvania will have typical "old fashioned" Thanksgiving weather tomorrow. Snow flurries and a temperature about freezing are indicated, the U. S. weather bureau said.

Showers were due late today, but they will have passed before tomorrow morning, the forecaster prophesied, giving way to snow flakes.

Testimony Of Willie Stevens Is Concluded

Eccentric Defendant Is Excused After Brief Cross-Examination

STICKS TO STORY WITHOUT BREAK

Proves Rather Surprise Witness—Denies All Charges Of Murders

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURT HOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 24.—Willie Stevens concluded his testimony in his own behalf as a defendant in the Hall-Mills murder trial today. He left the stand a splendid witness for himself, the prosecutor being unable to break him down on a single essential point in his testimony that he had "absolutely nothing to do" with the murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills.

Willie was on the stand for but twelve minutes this morning, making the length of his appearance as a witness an hour and thirty-two minutes, less than half the time taken in Henry Stevens' direct testimony and cross-examination.

Denies Accusations.

Willie denied he had been in the habit of taking notes to the home of Mrs. Mills. He didn't remember telling the prosecutor of Middlesex county four years ago a different story of his movements on the night of the crime than he related on the stand yesterday.

He denied he was subject to epilepsy. Mr. and Mrs. John S. Dickson of North Plainfield, said he came to their house on the night of the murder looking for the Parker home, near De Russey's Lane, and that he looked like a man "taking a fit".

Willie was asked by Prosecutor Alexander Simpson if he would allow a physician to examine him regarding the subject of epilepsy and Willie retorted:

"I'll have to consult my lawyer about that".

When Simpson remarked that the witness had "very good judgment" Willie smiled and said: "Thank you".

Simpson asked Willie if he had his loaded .32 calibre gun with him on the night of September 14, 1922, when Willie admitted he left the Hall home with his sister, Mrs.

Two Detectives Are Wounded

Lone Bandit Shoots Down Two Officers In Philadelphia

(International News Service)

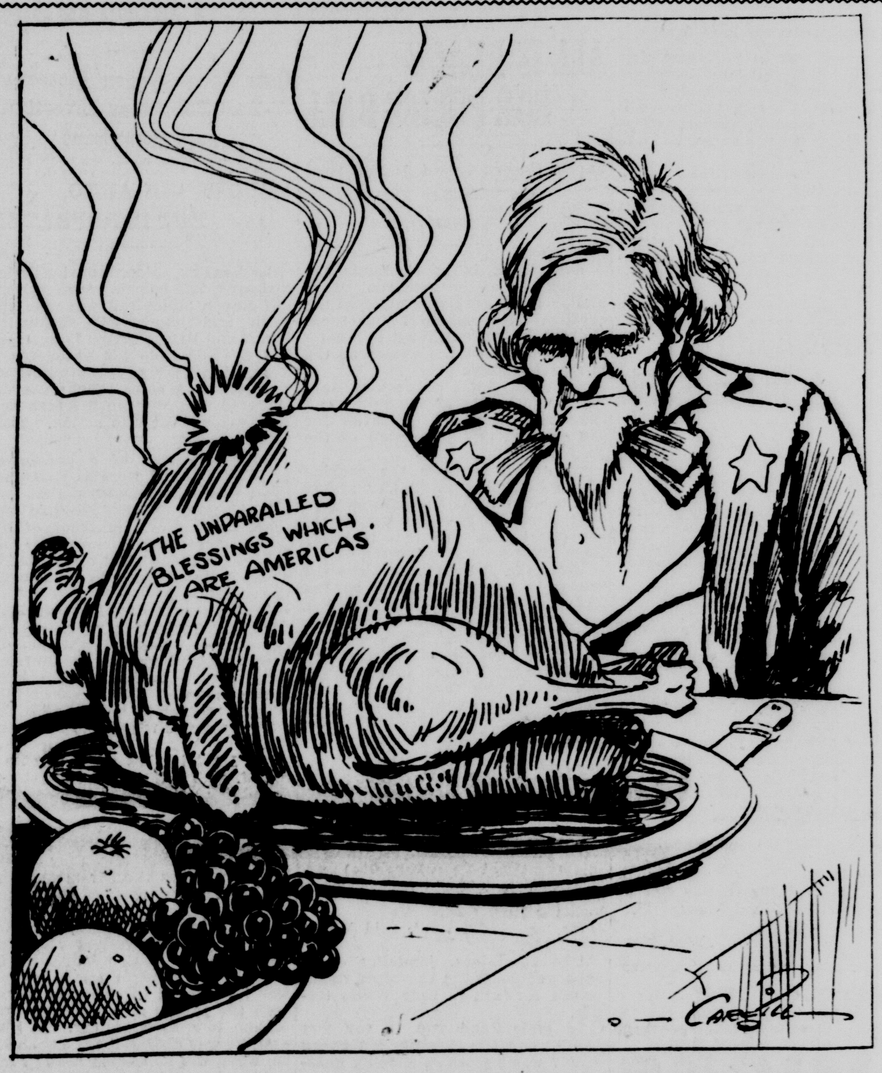

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—Two detectives, Michael Slavin and Geo. Richardson, fell riddled with bullets early today in an encounter with a lone bandit who opened fire to cover the flight of two bandit companions and then made his escape by scattering card players in a club here and plunging through a second floor window.

The wounded men, who were shot through the legs, are in a serious condition from loss of blood.

Four city detectives were sent to search for three men wanted in connection with a recent $35,000 messenger robbery, when shortly after midnight they saw the trio standing in front of a cigar store.

Richardson and Slavin were shot down. After holding the detectives at bay while his companions escaped one of the men, who police say is Harry Lansetti, fled up a flight of stairs into a club rooms, and escaped through a rear window.

Queen Marie Says Farewell To America; Starts Trip Homeward

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Marie, Queen of Roumania, sails for home today, her American tour cut short by the illness of King Ferdinand.

Standing on the deck of the liner Berengaria, which was to leave at 10 o'clock, her majesty gazed wistfully this morning at New York's towering skyscrapers and caught a final glimpse of New York's millions on their way to work.

After a final hectic day in New York, characteristic in its bustling activity of the five-week American trip, the Queen boarded the liner shortly before midnight last night and retired immediately to the palatial suite made gorgeous by flowers and gifts. Prince Nicholas and Princess Ileana attended a revue and reached the ship nearly an hour later.

Refutes Insinuation

Broadcasting a farewell message to America from Radio Station WMCA, Queen Marie refuted the insinuation that she had come to this country to collect money for Roumania. She said:

"When I am gone, don't let anything tarnish that remembrance that you have of me. Don't let any thought come into your mind that perhaps I was across here for anything else but what I said I had come for. That was to know you all, to tell you my gratitude, for all America had done for Roumania in the time of the war and after the war, when we were poor and destroyed.

"I did not come on business. I did not come for the sake of politics. I came for nothing but just to make friends with you, to carry that friendship back with me into

Murder Result Of Shot Fired To Frighten Man

(International News Service)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 24. —A shot fired to frighten Leonard Falen, 21, by his mother-in-law, Mrs. A. J. Branham, today had cost Falen's life and put Mrs. Branham behind prison bars under a charge of first degree murder.

According to Mrs. Branham, she fired through the door of her home at Dawes, near here, to frighten her son-in-law after a family dispute. Falen died five hours later from the wound.

Falen's body was returned to Sharon, W. Va., to await burial on Thanksgiving Day.

Said the fellow who's boss of this well known sheet, I see you're belittling me, and you tramped on my neck and you chuckled a chuck in yesterday's poetry. You even implied that I had forgot, there was something for me to do, but I told the painter to fix it up, the pahster who's known as Lou. I told him to bring on his paint and brush, and daub the thermometer gold, but it seems that he's busy, as so am I, or else it is too darn cold. It's been two months since I mentioned it, so the fault doesn't lay with me, though I know that it's hard to decipher the thing, for today it is forty-three. So now I hope that you'll lay off me, I hope that your knocking is through, take a shot at the painter who hasn't shown up, the painter who's known as Lou.

France May Make Concessions In Debt Settlement

Ready To Appoint New Ambassador to United States, Says Report

CABINET MEMBERS ARE BELLIGERENT

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 24.—France may make a sentimental gesture to the United States in an attempt to secure concessions in the debt settlement, according to reports current here today.

The French government, it is stated, may sound out the United States as to the acceptability of the Marquis De Chambrun as French ambassador to the United States. The Marquis, who is now minister to Greece, is a descendant of General Lafayette and it is the opinion of some French officials that he might have an advantage in this in negotiating a settlement of debts with the United States.

The Marquis De Chambrun has served in the French embassy at Washington and at the foreign office in Paris.

Premier Poincare may find some difficulty in filling the post of ambassador to the United States, since it appears that the present chamber is prepared to be extremely critical of any and all proposed settlements and no ambassador can go to the United States with the assurances that any settlement he may make will find support at home.

Town Talk

Fire Caief Charles H. Lynn is thinking seriously of employing a person skilled in various languages, especially in the Spanish language, in order that he may always know and appreciate some of the correspondence and papers which he receives from time to time. This is especially true in the case of newspapers sent him occasionally by Bert Stevenson, former resident, who for many years has been located in Porto Rico. Some time ago Chief Lynn discovered an article in a paper here concerning the statements of an American girl, who while attending the University of Kansas, met and married a prominent Porto Rican, who was also attending that institution. According to the story, the girl on being taken to Porto Rico was forced to live in very unfavorable conditions and was subjected to all kinds of abuse and indignities by her Porto Rican husband. He clipped this item and sent it to Mr. Stevenson. In reply, Mr. Stevenson sent him the other day a copy of a Spanish language paper published in San Juan, Porto Rico, in which the item has apparently been copied into the Spanish language. The only real knowledge of what the whole thing is about is the few words of Mr. Stevenson written on the edge of the paper in which he states that the story of the girl, whose name is given as Carol Pennington, is apparently far fetched.

ALL IS READY FOR POLICE BALL

Expect Record Crowd At Ball Here On Thursday Evening

Everything is in readiness for the big ball of the Fraternal Order of Police Thanksgiving night at the Scottish Rite cathedral and there is every indication that it is becoming the event of the winter as the hour approaches.

All officers not on regular duty will be available at the event and have been assigned to duties for the comfort and protection of the public.

They will regulate the parking of machines in the vicinity of the cathedral and will maintain a guard over them, so that the patrons of the dance may feel free to enjoy themselves to the utmost.

From the present indications the crowd in attendance will be the largest that has ever attended a dance in this community. There will be something for everybody in the way of diversions, dancing for those who enjoy it, cards for those who like that form of fun and all will be enabled to see the magnificent big building with experienced guides in charge.

"No, sir, I did not", said Willie positively.

The spectators, jamming every nook and corner in the court room, leaned forward to hear Willie testify.

"I understand you to say you didn't know Mrs. Eleanor Mills very well"? was Simpson's opening question.

"Yes".

"You were never in the Mills home or took notes there"?

"No", replied Willie.

"Only one time I was on the piazza, never in her home".

"You never saw her at her home and never talked to her"?

"No, sir".

"Didn't you tell the prosecutor of Middlesex county in 1922 that on that Thursday night (the night of the murder) you never left the room until your sister called you"?

"I am not positive".

Simpson then placed some shells on the witness railing.

"These shells I show you, are they the kind you fired"?

"No, sir".

Willie looked at the shells and said: "These cartridges would not fit my revolver because these have a rim".

Luther Cox Is Placed In Jail

Gets Tough When Detective And Policeman Investigate Complaint

"BUCKS" IN AUTO, BUT IS DEFEATED

Luther Cox, colored, obviously intoxicated, this morning invited himself into a police cell when he got fresh and tough with Detective Lynch and Patrol Driver Longstreth and by this time his ardor for a mix-up is probably great diminished. For a time he acted tough; that is, he acted that way until Lynch and Longstreth went into action. That settled Luther.

The proprietor of a garage at Long avenue and Moravia street notifiel police headquarters that two colored men, intoxicated, had put their touring car, in front of his door and refused to move it. Detective Lynch and Patrolman Longstreth were detailed to investigate the complaint.

They found the car, somewhat damaged, parked in front of the garage door. They sought the colored man and found him in Long avenue where he had gone to have a tire repaired. They asked him why he refused to comply with the garage owner's request to move the car.

"If I get in that car I'll get arrested, so I might as well get arrested for not moving it", he said, meaning that his state which was evidently one of intoxication would win him a berth in a police cell. The officers told him they would help him shove the car away from the door.

They asked the colored man how his car happened to be damaged. He said he had overturned near the Conti Fireworks Company. While enroute to the place where his car was he stopped to exchange words with the garage man who had asked him to remove his car. In general, he was disrespectful, decidedly so, when the policemen asked him:

"If you reside in the state of Pennsylvania, why are you operating on an Ohio license"?

He became "chesty" picked up an auto 'jack' from the ground and his actions and talk in general compelled the police to place him under arrest.

Cox was placed in the police automobile and enroute through South Mill street to the police station he commenced talking fight and finally went into action.

Detective Lynch, sitting in the rear seat with his prisoner took hold of him and within two or three minutes Longstreth snapped a pair of "bracelets" around his wrists. He's in jail.

tion will be loaded with homecomers today and tonight, for few of us there are who do not like to put our feet under the old family dinner table on Thanksgiving.

For all of us it should be the day for returning thanks. In the rush of sport activities, the good cheer and fellowship attending a homecoming and the discomfort experienced after putting away what should be enough for two meals, many of us are apt to forget that the early Puritans set the day aside to return thanks for their many blessings.

Many Reasons For Thanks.

All of us have a lot for which to be thankful. We haven't made a million dollars in the past year perhaps, but we should be thankful that we've been permitted to work. Perhaps the skies haven't always been blue, and perhaps the sun hasn't shone as brightly as it might every day, but still we have a heap for which we should be thankful.

Here in New Castle we have much for which to be thankful as a municipal family.

Most of us, especially those of the male persuasion will sleep until nearly noon. Then the Thanksgiving dinner, a quiet hour or so with the family around the hearthstone, and at 2:30, the football game between New Castle high school and Erie Academy high school. For the evening, the theatres or the dances.

But in the midst of your pleasures tomorrow, don't forget to take a minute or so, and return thanks for the many blessings showered upon us during the past twelve months.

Thanksgiving— In Words and Deeds

According to hallowed national custom, the head of our Great Republic has proclaimed the annual day for rendering thanks to the Dispenser of all blessings, for manifold benefits bestowed during the past year upon us as a people and as individuals. A pause is called in the midst of the strenuous activities of modern life, that we may solemnly acknowledge the spiritual guidance that has made our material efforts productive.

Thanksgiving Day, 1926, gives occasion for great gratitude. Let us show our thankfulness for difficult problems solved by deeds as well as words. Let us work to anticipate any problems the future may bring forth.

A stuffed grate in the C. W. The loss was slight. The firemen were called to the place shortly before 11 o'clock.

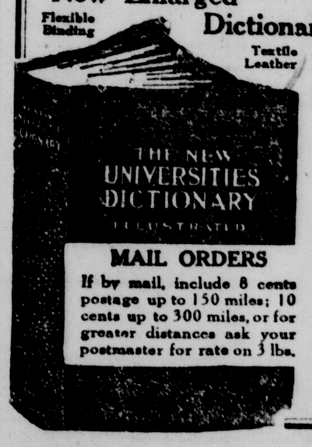

The rockpile afforded by some southern states has been condemned by the national hobo convention. What's a man going to do for a winter home?

GRATITUDE

THANKFULNESS is largely a matter of temperament. Many people are habitually dissatisfied. Some take a sort of virtuous pleasure in their frank disapproval of things.

That is not altogether bad. It is mainly the discontented souls that shake things up and make conditions better. But this is no time for shaking up.

Let there be all the divine discontent imaginable along about New Year's Day. From now to Christmas is a season of rejoicing, a time to sum up the fortunes of the present year and feel thankful for all the good it has brought and the evil it has lacked.

Thanksgiving has its grouches just as Christmas has its Scrooges. Let the chronic malcontents and ingrates loosen up and yield to the spirit of the occasion, if only so far as to thank Heaven that things have been no worse.

Materially, the country as a whole has prospered greatly. That means most of the individuals in it have prospered. Business has flourished. Industry has waxed fat. Labor has been regularly employed at peak wages. Farmers are less fortunate as a class; but if they recken their blessing in ample crops, rather than what the crops bring in hard cash, their harvest festival will not lack its traditional spirit. At the worst, our American farmers are immeasurably more blest than those of other lands.

Spiritually—well, we cannot be quite so sure about that. We have ample opportunity for spiritual blessings, but have we developed them as we have our material gifts? This is a good time to think about it. And if the material side of life has been uppermost this year, yet a proper gratitude for outward blessings now may make a good beginning of inward grace and riches. The person who feels sincerely grateful for whatever good comes to him is bound to prosper spiritually.

A LESSON FROM THE PAST

ARCHAEOLOGISTS of the National Geographic Society studying the ancient ruins of Pueble Bonito in Northwestern New Mexico have come to the conclusion that this pre-historic village committed community suicide by deforestation.

Scientists excavating the village, now standing in the center of a desert, have found proof that it was once surrounded by a fertile and wooded plain, which its aboriginal inhabitants cultivated with rude impliments of stone and wood.

There is quite conclusive proof that Bonitians cut down the pine forests in which they had built their village in order to put a roof over the 800 rooms of their great community dwelling and to clear additional ground for farming. It was a tragic mistake. Destruction of the forest bared the soil to wind and water. The summer rains, having no trees to gather and hold them, washed away as rapidly as they fell, leaving the once fertile soil parched and barren. The natives had to choose between starvation at home or emigration, and they chose the latter.

Civilized America has been making the same mistake for decades. By wanton deforestation it has jeopardized its water supply and increased the flood menace. Timber is as necessary to adequate water supply as it is to the builder and manufacturer. Society would call that man a fool who, wishing to have a house in the forest, cut down all the trees to build the house and yet society has been doing that very thing since the beginning of man.

HORN BLOWER; POOR DRIVER?

ORGANIZED motorists are quite as insistent as the police and general public on the abatement of the honking pest. The American Automobile Association, in a recent manifesto, speaks of the unnecessary hubbub of the busy street as "an approximation of Bedlum."

The police in cities and towns throughout the country are trying to educate truck and automobile drivers to do more driving with their brake and eyes than with the horn button and the public is showing its displeasure with those who have not learned that the automobile horn is an emergency alarm and not a plaything or medium for the expression of one's impatience.

Unnecessary traffic noises, however, will not be eliminated by placard campaigns and anti-noise ordinances. Those may bring some slight temporary relief but there is another weapon capable of accomplishing more permanent good.

Every craft hates bungling and crudity in its practice. Superfluous, persistent tooting is the mark of the poor driver. The A. A. A. suggests that "preliminary elimination of unnecessary automobile noises is a matter of putting genuine into one's use of the horn." It means that the horn abuser is a tenth-rate driver, and few persons, if they can prevent it, want to be classed as stupid players in any game.

This more or less subtle appeal to personal pride will do as much in the long run to restore quiet to the highways and raise the standards of highway manners and skill as a multitude of codes and windshield posters.

Life is possible on Venus, says an astronomer, but no exodus of emigrants has yet been reported.

A college diploma is a successful man's reminder of how little he knew when he got it.

The man who first called woman a "clinging vine" was a poet, and poets are made up mostly of imagination.

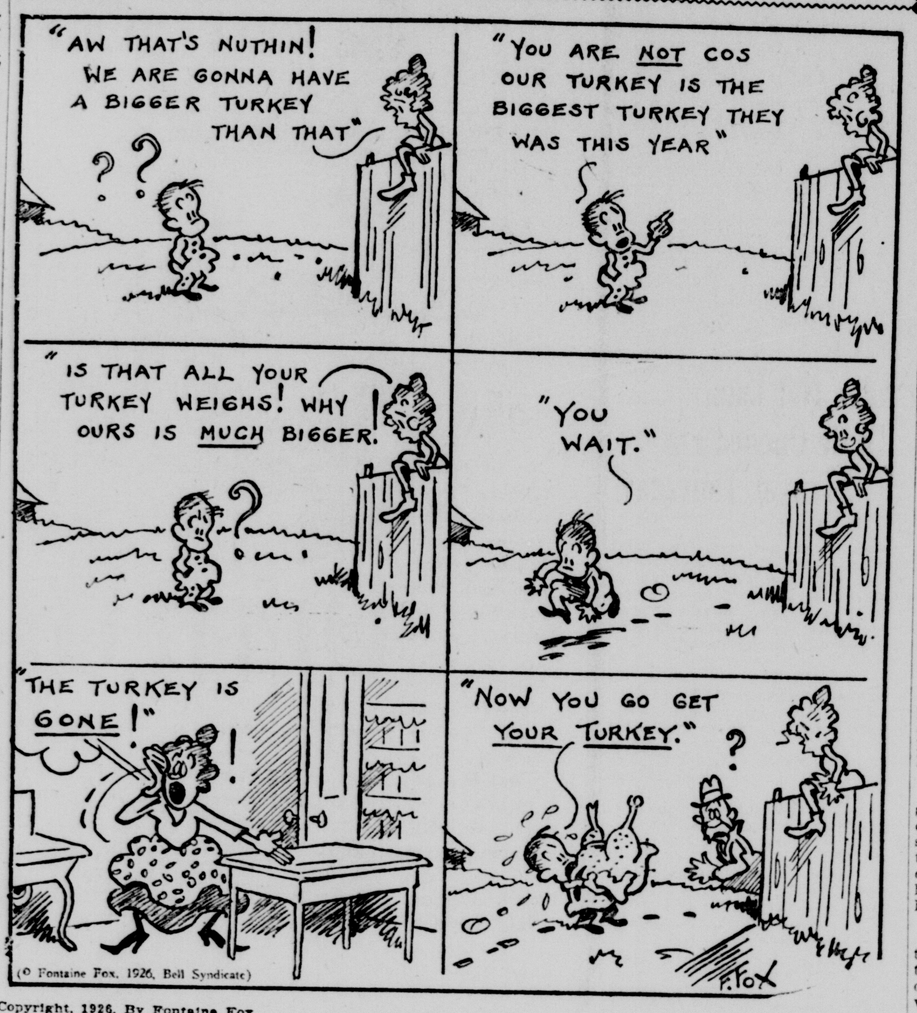

That not everyone reads the divorce news is indicated by the feminist who advocates "temporary wifehood."

Middle ages: Leaping aside to let the king go by. Modernity: Giving all the road to a truck.

New Jersey, according to the testimony in the Hall-Mills murder trial, must be a great place to fish and spoon. They only spoon in the winter time, however.

A congressman favors lowering local taxes, as well as federal taxes. We cannot imagine a more popular thing for a congressman to advocate, if only for a bluff.

Churches in the United States are to put on a campaign in the newspapers to test the views of the people on religion. No better place could be found to make such a test if it is to be done in advertising space at regular advertising rates. Too many would take advantage of giving their views if they could get all the space they want for nothing. Some of those babies are long-winded when it comes to writing their views.

The wets don't need a platform. What they want is a raft.

An organization in New York looking after the welfare of humans in general and no one in particular, is to make an investigation of girls and see if they are spending the money for silk stockings instead of for the old-fashioned beef and vegetables. If those uplifters will take a look around in the Schraff shops in the vicinity of 34th street up, and look on the tables and also under the tables, they will have their answer without looking any further.

Ignorance is bliss. The happiest travelers are those who haven't enough mechanical knowledge to know the fix their car is in.

A Pittsburgh man agreed to support his wife if the judge let him out of jail and got him a job. He got out of jail, anyhow on the bluff.

It is hardly necessary for us to warn people not to eat too much turkey tomorrow. If you have liver and tripe, go light on it if you have nothing better.

The News believes in patronizing home merchants and home industries. Every year this newspaper could get thousands of dollars worth of advertising from Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Youngstown and other places, but we refuse to take it when it is competitive advertising. You can get just as good merchandise in New Castle as you can in any city. When you spend your money at home you have a chance of getting it back again, but if it goes out of town it is gone forever. Be a patriot for your home town.

A big brother came home from college to spend the Thanksgiving dinner and he brought with him a brand new saxophone, and the idea that he was some player. At the first blast two-year-old Johnny turned away in disgust. "Cow do dat!" he declared.

Dr. Lorenz, great German specialist, just arrived in this country, says a fat woman will be fat in spite of all she does, and the more she does to get thin the more it injures her health. Now, girls cut out the dieting and let yourself be fat and healthy. Anything that is lean and flabby is not good to eat, don't you know.

We have many things to be thankful for in New Castle, and if we put forth some more effort along a few lines we can have a lot more things to be proud of and thankful for by next year. Most of us are very, very thankful that we are alive, at that.

The lady governor of Texas has granted 2,595 pardons in less than the two years she has been in office. In spite of that the people of Texas are letting her retire to private life after January 1. If she were in a few years longer she would have thugs enough as friends to elect her again.

The further up the skirt goes, the less work it will be for the textile makers and workers and the better it will be for the silk stocking industry. Cotton will not cut much figure, even in the country districts.

A local man said about the right thing when asked how he found business, and he said he went after it and found and hunted it. That's the way to get it these days. Just sitting and waiting for it may bring a little, but it's the big business most men want now.

The greatest excuse makers we have ever heard are the dog fanatics. No matter how many people a dog chews up, or the damage he causes, its owner is there to defend it. No one knows what to call it.

A CLASH OF WITS

While Horace Mann, the famous educator, was sitting in his study one day an insane man rushed into the room and challenged him to fight.

"My dear fellow", replied Mr. Mann, "it would give me great pleasure to accommodate you, but I can't do it, the odds are so unfair. I am a Mann by name and a man by nature—that's two against one."

"Oh, come ahead!" the insane man answered. "I am a man and a man beside myself. Let us four have a fight."

In 1850 a Dr. Woodbridge invented a projectile for use in rifled canon, and it was used in the Civil War. Heirs of the inventor afterwards sued the government for compensation. Congress considered the matter for 35 years, then authorized an investigation of the claim. Now, after 22 more years, the claim has been disallowed by the supreme court. Give the law time and it will settle any question.

With so many Democrats intruding Vice President Dawes is likely to find it harder than ever to make the Senate behave.

According to one statistician advertising in newspaper is read by 98 out of every 100 readers. That being the case your advertisment placed in the New Castle News, is read by about 85,000 people every day. We'll tell Lawrence county that's some audience to talk to. And it costs about a half a cent a head to do it.

The happiest homes in America, a recent speaker declared, are those in which the husband's wipe the dishes. That's debatable, of course. There are many people who still hold the colonials were happier than the moderns and that the colored brother was happier under slavery than he is today.

The turkey or the chicken that escapes the ax about Thanksgiving day can look forward for just about a month's respite. Then it will be Christmas and time again for a big feed that only turkey and chicken can give.

Peaches Browning must struggle along with only $300 a week allmony until the final disposition of her case. That will be pretty hard on the shop girl who suddenly found herself the wife of a millionaire.

Automobiles were responsible for the deaths of 676 during the month of October, and that isn't a bad month either. Wait until the roads get slippery and snows heavy and there will probably be an increase in the number. But the number is very small considering the millions who drive cars.

There are only about 5,000,000 income taxpayers in the country and there are about 20,000,000 automobile owners. It is much easier to own a car than to pay income tax and it is a lucky thing that it is.

Sometimes officers are too quick using their revolvers and again they are too slow. A little speedier action on Saturday night would have saved Officer Frank Reynolds from the cuts he has about the face. The officers must be protected in their work and they must at times protect themselves and the quicker action the better.

Good-Bye to the Queen.
We Don't Dislike Asia.
A Lady and a Plot.
Empathy.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Tomorrow Queen Marie goes home. She says: "Next time, I shall see America. This time America has seen me."

It's a polite way of saying that we give visitors no rest. A foreigner is treated like a rag doll thrown into the monkey cage.

* * *

The queen has been welcome and any foolishness that has marked her visit has been 100 per cent American foolishness. It is not her fault that some proud Americans kissed her hand and others were inclined to crawl around on their hands and knees when they met her.

King Ferdinand's health will improve when she gets home. She will make him laugh.

* * *

Kabindranath Tagore (fine old poet of Bombay) joins Europe's hymn of American hate. He won't come here again; did not like us last time. We are "too aggressively anti-Asiatic and selfish."

* * *

We like Tagore, picturesque old gentleman, and like especially his description of the man on the seashore, looking for a pebble that turns iron to gold. He kept on all day touching different peebles to his iron bracelet, but soon forgot to look at the bracelet.

* * *

As night came, he looked, and the bracelet was gold. But it was too late to go back and see which of 10,000 pebbles had done the work.

There's a wonderful lesson for the young American go-getter, who usually goes and gets into a rut.

* * *

We are not "aggressively Asiatic," but we notice that India in 5,000 years has done nothing but turn from slavery under the rajahs to slavery under Britain and rajahs combined. We, on the other hand, have done several things, steamboat, flying machine, automobile, telephone, phonograph, radio, in much less than 5,000 years.

The French secret police have found a lady, and from her they have proof of a wide plot to assassinate Mussolini.

Mussolini's enemies cannot frighten friends, for he exposes himself recklessly.

Can the Italian ruler hope to escape such bitter hatred? Six times the would-be assassins have failed. Will they fail six times six?

* * *

A well-informed Frenchman now in New York, says: "No, Mussolini cannot forever escape," and adds romantically that the most fortunate thing for him would be to "leave the earth in beauty," meaning that violent death would confer immortality.

* * *

But that is not what Mussolini wants yet. He wants to stay, and fight on, to establish Italy in the power of ancient Rome.

* * *

Are you inclined to empathy? It's the new word of psychologists, and explains stories of witnesses describing in detail what they never saw. That new word may play a part in the Hall-Mills murder case.

* * *

First we think about a thing with sympathy. Then we get mixed, inject ourselves into the affair, in our imaginations, and soon are ready to swear, with perfect sincerity, that we saw what we never saw.

* * *

Dreams lead to empathy. You dream you saw a friend in a certain place, think about it, and in a week you believe that you dreamed of him and then saw him, just where you had dreamed of him. And you tell your friends how your dream came true, when it did nothing of the kind.

Beware of empathy. The world is full of it.

In Day's News

This is the 67th birthday anniversary of Cass Gilbert, president of the National Academy of Design. Mr. Gilbert is one of the eminent leaders of the architectural profession in America. He designed the great Woolworth building, the new customs house and several other monumental structures in New York York. The state capitols of Minnesota, West Virginia and Arkansas, the public libraries of Detroit and St. Louis and the general plans for the Universities of Texas and Minnesota also are among his accomplishments. At the Chicago World's Fair he was a member of the national jury for fine arts, and at the Paris International Exposition of the jury for architecture. Mr. Gilbert is a native of Zanesville, O., and received his early education in the schools of that city of St. Paul. Subsequently he studied for his chosen profession at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE NAME DAVID

Some names carry a singular appeal and the flavor of character in their very sound.

A skilled short-story writer once opined that the best plot in the world would be spoiled by giving the characters names that didn't fit.

The name "John" suggests steady dependability.

The name "Mary" suggests sweet innocence.

You can't have a soulless vampire named "Mary", nor a suave villain named "John." Those roles are reserved for the "Carmens" and the "Desmonds".

This was his dictum.

Whether this holds true or not, it is certain that different names suggest certain characteristics to certain people.

To me, the name "David" always suggests the triumverate of sincerity, simplicity, kindness.

And, as I grow older, few things seem of greater worth than these three.

"Just David" is one of the most appealing novel titles that I can remember.

It brings to mind all the quiet, unassuming, straightforward men of the earth—the men you turn to in time of trouble.

I sometimes think that a man named "David" should feel a sense of noblesse oblige" to embody the connotations of the word.

There is quiet music in the name and the overtones of unassuming and lofty nobility whisper through its syllables.

A friend of mine maintains that it is ridiculous to name babies at birth.

People ought to wait until they grow up and demonstrate what they are like before they receive a name.

Then they could be given a name that would really fit them.

One of my highest ambitions, which I cherish in moments of intense sincerity, is, under such a plan, to embody qualities that would make me worthy to be called David.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MOTOR VEHICLE INVESTMENT.

I remember very well back in the late Nineties, the first publication of the "Horseless Age." I was then conducting a store in Washington Street, and I sold among other things magazines. Suddenly, out of a clear sky, the American News Company, who had undertaken the distribution of the periodical, enclosed in their daily bundle, the first edition of that magazine, and asked for my order. I placed the magazine on the counter, among other periodicals, after having curiously examined it. That same evening Cliff Watson and Phil Courtney came into the store, as was their wont, and immediately seized upon the publication, and from that time on, that and other subsequent publications of like nature which later appeared, had a ready sale with these two men.

It may not be known to many New Castle people, but Phil Courtney at that time drew some very beautiful plans for an automobile. I saw the blue prints afterward. The plans of Phil's automobile, like the plans of a modern airplane, set forth a very beautiful body, but did not disclose the motive power. The airplane, or ship of the air, today is the thing in which the engine is placed. The engine may be very powerful, but unless the airplane is constructed properly, it does not fly well or fast. However, without the engine, the airplane is nothing.

For several years Courtney and Watson worked away upon the making of an engine to place in that which is known now as a chassis or body of an automobile. At the time they began work, no one in America had manufactured and sold a "horseless carriage" that would go under its own power, other than the crude steam carriages of nearly a century ago.

This incident has been recalled to my mind by a statement made recently by the Automobile Club of Southern California, that in Los Angeles County alone, there were about one million motor vehicles licensed by the state of California, the original sale price of which cars in California averaged nearly one thousand dollars each. In other words, these Los Angeles County motor vehicles represent a sum of money invested with the automobile manufacturers equal to the total national debt of the United States at the time Messrs. Courtney and Watson began their automobile experiments in New Castle. Think of how much water has gone over the dam and under the bridge since that day! Could any human being thirty years ago have visualized the tremendous possibilities of the motor vehicles in pleasure, in work, and in money investment, to say nothing of the literally millions of citizens of this nation depending upon the industry as a means of livelihood?

Just Folks

THE HIGH PEAKS OF PRIDE

Life gives us two or three sweet thrills we like to talk about,
The memory of the first home run fades not entirely out,
To every man comes soon or late one rapturous hour of fame
When satisfaction with himself is his to boast and claim.

That night the lovely maiden blushes red and whispers "yes"
He walks the world on airy feet aglow with happiness,
And there's no doubt that he is proud and boastful I may say
With every right to strut a bit upon his wedding day.

The next event which stirs his blood and fills his soul with joy
Is when the doctor says to him: All's well, and it's a boy!"
Or let it be a little girl, the thrill is just the same,
There is a pride in fatherhood which nothing else can claim.

These three high peaks of perfect bliss already I have known,
And now the graybeards say to me one other I shall own.
"You'll boast as ne'er before," they say, "and strut the way we do
The day your son or daughter makes a grandpa out of you."

POEMS HOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"The Lady of the Lambs," by Alice Meynell.

Mrs. Meynell, who died in London, was one of the rarest of pets, with a spiritual quality in her work too little apparent in these hurried days. It was my privilege to meet her on several occasions, and even in her physical being she gave one the impression of scarcely belonging to this earth. A complete edition of her poems has just been published; yet in that one small volume may be found some of the finest gold of our time.

She walks—the lady of my delight—
A shepherdess of sheep.
Her flocks are thoughts. She keeps them white;
She guards them from the steep.
She feeds them on the fragrant height,
And folds them in for sleep.

She roams the maternal hills and bright,
Dark valleys safe and deep.
Her dreams are innocent at night;
The chastest stars may peep.
She walks—the lady of my delight—
A shepherdess of sheep.

She holds her little thoughts in sight,
Though gay they run and leap.
She is so circumspect and right;
She has her soul to keep.
She walks—the lady of my delight—
A shepherdess of sheep.

Bridge Not Likely To Be Opened For Travel Thursday

County Commissioners stated this morning that it is very doubtful if the Willow Grove bridge, which is being replanked, can be opened before Thanksgiving evening. It was expected that it would be ready this evening, but upon removing the plank the contractors found that some new iron work was necessary. They have succeeded in getting the iron, but it delayed the planking. A crew of men worked all last night on the bridge.

World War Veteran Guilty Of Murder; Sentenced For Life

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 24.—William Harvey Elam, shell-shocked war veteran of Meridian, Miss., today was making preparations to go to the Ohio state penitentiary there to spend the remainder of his life, without hope of parole or pardon.

A jury of eight men and four women found Elam guilty of first degree murder and recommended mercy.

The ex-soldier shot and killed his sweetheart Helen Miklos, in a fit of jealous rage when she started to take an automobile ride with a deputy sheriff. Elam's aged mother here from Meridian for the trial thanked the jury with tears streaming down her face when they saved the youth from the electric chair by the mercy recommendation.

Township Asks For Verdict Reversal

In the case of David Syling against Slippery Rock township, in which he was awarded a verdict for $170 for a horse injured so badly that it had to be killed, by stepping on a stone on a township road, a motion has been made by the township for judgment, notwithstanding the verdict. The case will be placed on the argument list.

Need Some Changes In Compensation Law Says Local Counsel

While the Workmen's Compensation Act is a splendid piece of legislation for the working man, there are still many flaws in it, according to Attorney Charles H. Young, associate counsel for the Workmen's Compensation Board. In an article written for the monthly report of the activities of the Department of Labor and Industry and recently published, Mr. Young sets out some of the defects which have become apparent.

"Casual" Rating Ones.

One of the difficulties experienced in settling compensation claims is the "casual" rating given to certain forms of employment. Among this classification is that of a man or woman employed by a Pennsylvania corporation but who is injured outside the borders of the state in performance of duty. Another is where some one is employed to do work not in their regular line of duty, such as a man hiring some person to do odd jobs about his home.

Word "Employee" Confusing

"Section 1 of the Workmen's Compensation act expressly excludes from the provision of the act certain classes of employees", Mr. Young asserts. "While this section naturally bans employees engaged in maritime and interstate occupations, there are still a number of injured workmen who are deprived of assistance from the board thru the defining of the word 'employe', although they have been shown to be injured while engaged in occupations that would naturally appear to come under the classification of the act.

"In defining the word 'employe', another section of the act excludes persons whose employment is casual in character and not in the regular course of the business of the employer, as well as to persons to whom articles or materials are given out to be made up, cleansed, washed, altered, ornamented, finished, or repaired, in the workers' homes, or in other premises not under the control or management of the employer. The Supreme and Superior courts have had occasion to pass on the exclusion of those persons whose employment is casual in character and as a result the findings have been against the appellant in each case.

"In one case heard before the Supreme court, an employee, hired to paint a silo on a farm occupied and operated by the employer, was injured while engaged on the commission. It was held that the employment was casual in character and not in the regular course of the business of the employer, which was farming, and compensation was denied. In another case the defendant was a man operating an oil lease. He employed a skilled mechanic, who owned a machine shop where he carried on his trade about half of his time and worked for various persons the remainder of the time.

"While at work for the oil lessee, the mechanic found it was necessary to take a cylinder to his shop to have it rebored. While waiting for this to be done, the mechanic was caught in the machinery and killed. The Supreme court held this his work was casual in character and not in the course of the employer's business and denied compensation".

Age Cause Of Refusal.

In addition to the class of workers, the report also shows that employees, who are, by reason of age, not permitted to be employed for certain labors and are therefore illegally employed, also fail to come within the provision of the compensation act, for the reason that there is no legal contract of hiring. Test cases before high state courts have resulted in adverse decisions against such employees who have applied for compensation.

An opinion of Deputy Attorney General J. W. Brown to Richard H. Lansburg, Secretary of Labor and Industry, reveals one case where a boy under age was injured while in the service of the Commonwealth. In this case the opinion shows that "the employment of a minor, 14 years of age, by the Department of Forests and Waters as a fire-fighter, without having on file an employment certificate, as required by law, is illegal". No contract of hiring could exist for the reason that the minor was incapable of making such a contract. As a result, the boy, who was injured, was denied compensation.

While numerous cases of casual employees, maritime and interstate workmen, who have been injured have been brought before the Workmen's Compensation Board, there has, to date, been no decision by the Appellate courts defining what constitutes domestic service as contained in the supplement to the act passed in June, 1915. By this supplement, persons who are engaged in domestic service and agriculture are exempt from the provisions of the act.

Moscow Police Have Trouble With Gangsters

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Nov. 24.—New York policemen may suffer from attacks by gunmen, but Russian policemen have it worse. Patrolman Terechov, pacing his beat at the Saratov station was set upon by a group of gangsters, beaten, robbed of his watch, baton, pistol, and of every stitch of his clothing.

Not badly injured, Terechov ran stark naked four blocks to his police station, and, without waiting even for a pair of pants, led a squad of patrolmen in pursuit of the bandits. They captured one, but in his possession was only Terechov's short jacket. Clad only in this abbreviated garment Terechov led his prisoner to the police station.

WAS DOWN IN BED WITH LUMBAGO

Went back to work after three days of home treatment

C. L. Normandy, a civil engineer living at 234 West 9th Street, St. Paul, Minn., was taken with an attack of lumbago and for one week could not move in his bed.

"A friend told me to use Sloan's Liniment and I got a bottle. After using it one day, I was able to walk about the house. After three days I was able to go to work, and now I am as well as ever. I would not be without Sloan's Liniment if it cost $5.00 a bottle. It is a sick man's friend."

The reason that Sloan's gives such remarkable relief is that it gets right at the cause of the pain. It stimulates the circulation throughout the place where the pain is, and clears out the germs that are causing it.

Right away you feel relief. The pain stops, and soon you are fit as ever. Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents.

Make Estimates On State's Income

Plans Being Made For Budget Of State For Next Two Years

(From News Bureau, State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 24.—Two separate agencies of the state government at present are busy preparing estimates of the commonwealth's income for the next biennium. One is the auditor general's department and the other is the secretary of the commonwealth who under the administration code is the budget officer.

Estimates of these experts is expected within a short time. At present the governor's appointive departments are preparing their budget requests and the last Pinchot budget to be submitted to the incoming assembly will be drafted very shortly. Just what amount of income the administration forces are expecting is somewhat of a mystery.

While the secretary of the commonwealth is busy estimating how much Father Penn will have to spend between June, 1927, and June, 1929, Auditor General Martin is also doing some estimating on the same subject. Two years ago State Treasurer Lewis, then in General Martin's place, and the governor differed as to what the state's income would be. Recent receipts to the state treasury seems to indicate that both sides were low in their expectations of revenue.

These figures probably will be available before the session starts or at least early in the meeting. As is the custom in past sessions the appropriation bills to be passed will be far above the state's actual income and the governor will have to do the slashing. Judging from reports being received from all parts of the state the requests for state grants will be heavy and more especially if the financial standing of the commonwealth is good. When the Pinchot administration goes out it is believed it will leave a healthy balance in the treasury which can be used for appropriation purposes by the coming session.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

NEW WORDS BY THE THOUSANDS

The publishers abandoned the printing plates which they formerly used in printing their dictionary, and now every old dictionary in this city should be discarded, as recent activities have brought additional new words into our language. Here is a newly compiled dictionary, larger and more complete than any similar one—all the new words—new special features—every line of it newly compiled—with an enlarged vocabulary—averaging more words to the page—and all at a trifling outlay that must mean nothing to one that wishes to keep abreast of the times. This enlarged new dictionary is now offered to readers through

How to Talk

By FARQUSON JOHNSON

Article No. 4

When we stop to think how well our ancestors got along with far fewer words, it would seem to discourage any attempt to enlarge our present vocabulary. But you must take into consideration the fact that there were fewer uses for words in those days. It was a slow moving world then—uneventful—plodding. It required many tiresome days to make things by hand that we now turn out in a few moments by modern machinery—and new inventions call for new words.

It was more than eight hundred years ago that our present language began to build itself, and upon rather a shaky foundation, at that. Even when Columbus sailed over to this side, which was more than four hundred years ago, very little progress had been made. Perhaps two hundred years will better mark the time when our present language would have been recognized in the spoken word of that time.

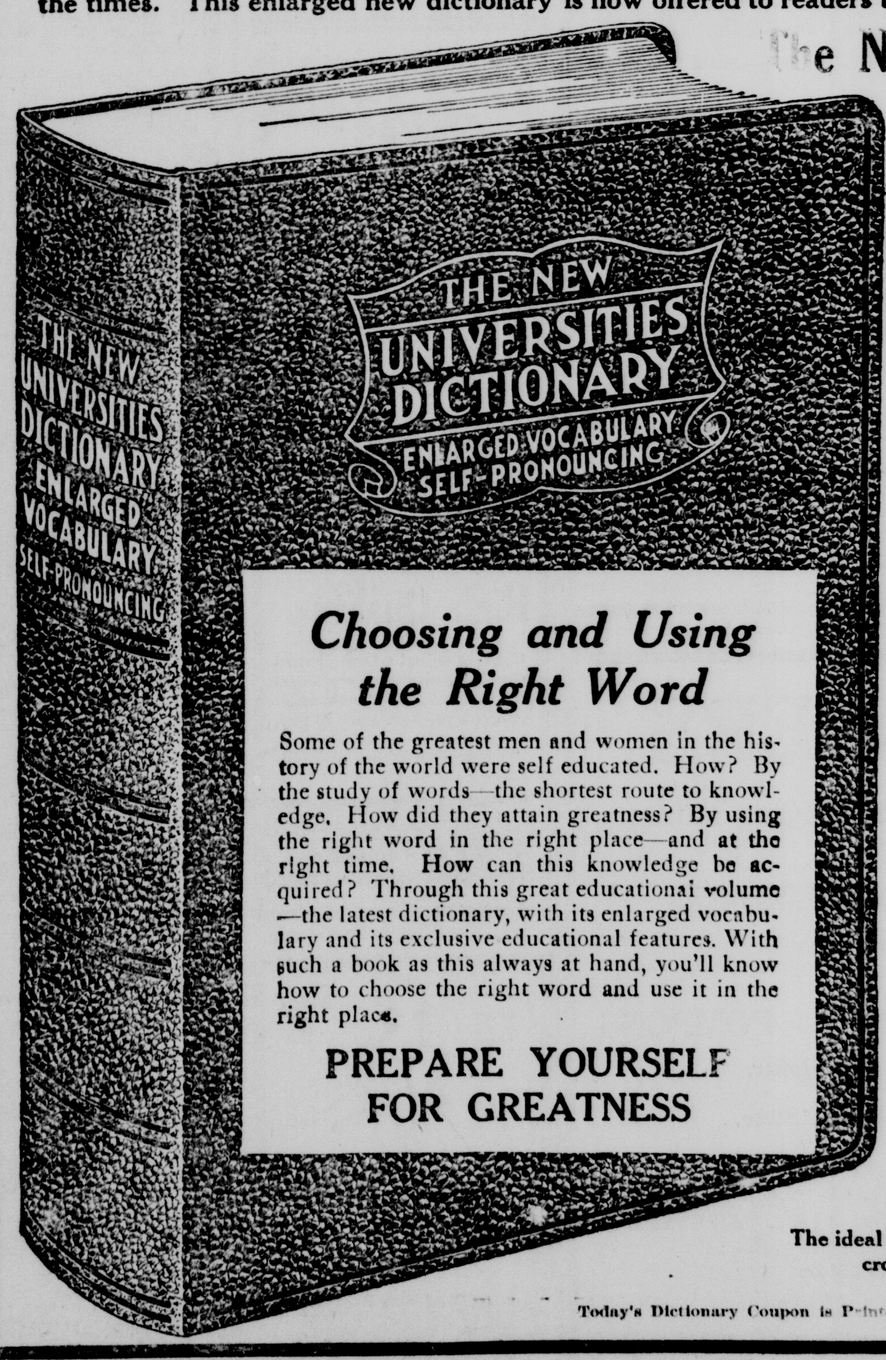

During those years we have passed through the age of great discoveries and inventions—all of which called for new words. Activities in science have brought their new words. Progress in every line of human endeavor has developed a need for new words. And now radio, aviation, and other inventions and discoveries, have been giving us more new words than we could comfortably take care of for the past year or two.

So you need a new dictionary to keep up with the times. But, when you go to buy one, ask when it was compiled. Find out if it really is new, or an ancient reprint. If it should happen to be a very old one with a few new words inserted and then reprinted with a recent date, it will not be worth the price, whatever it may be. It would be like buying a second-hand hat which was out of style years ago.

Fashions change in words and their meanings as they do in wearing apparel; and not to be familiar with the modern usage of words is like being a back number in the style of dress. You cannot afford to be known as one who is so far behind the times. Keep up with modern language through the dictionary that is newly compiled with an enlarged vocabulary.

And don't forget that it requires more than a new date to make an old dictionary modern.

Will Take 50 Tons Of Candy To Serve City During Holidays

Fifty tons of candy will be eaten during the Christmas holidays in the city of New Castle, according to an estimate compiled today following a canvas of several of the leading wholesale and confectionery houses, which means that each person will grind their teeth through at least two pounds.

The 50 tons, or 100,000 pounds, will be good; and also a proportion of it hard. By this it is meant that among the 100,000 tons will be candy that will cost several dollars a pound while the hard candy will be that which the persons with good teeth can eat; in other words, it will be of the old-time Christmas variety.

Candy will be shipped here and also made here. One big wholesale house has averaged 25,000 pounds a year. Another will average this amount, it is reported. Thousands of pounds will be purchased by employes at the big mills while the numerous confectionery stores in the different business districts expect to do a big business.

The candy which is given as a Christmas treat by the Carnegie Steel company has already been ordered. Four thousand pounds will be given away to the "kiddies". Employes will probably order 3,000 packages each containing five pounds. The welfare division of the A. S & T. P. company will also present gifts to "kiddies" and employes are now placing their orders, through the restaurant division, it is said.

Along the business rialto, candy of all descriptions is on display. Candy in fancy boxes, candy in boxes not quite so fancy and candy on the shelf is exhibited. Candy in jars, candy in pails, in fact every kind of candy container there is, can be seen.

The head of the household, which in this "candy story" means the father, commonly known nowadays as the "Old man" (which years ago was something taboo) buys his better half a box of candy with a big, flaming red heart. The youth who buys a box of candy, in a pretty box, covered with tinsel, purchases mushy (not a pun) candy; or the soft, quickly devoured kind.

For the children, probably because their teeth are good, father and mother purchase what is known as Christmas or hard candy. It is good, only it lacks the pretty box and the pretty little ribbons that are found tied about fancy boxes in confectionery stores. Children apparently like this kind of candy better and whether they did or not, they wouldn't voice objections while gazing, after a night's sleep, at a Christmas tree.

There'll be at least 100,000 pounds sold here. According to confectioners" the people nowadays are buying better candy than previously. According to reports there'll be no scarcity of candy as the confectioners here, there, and in fact everywhere, have been preparing for a big rush and according to estimates gathered today, the big rush is about to start.

DINNER STORIES

A case was called in court. Mr. Smith, attorney for the defense, begged the Judge to extend the case over a few days. "I have been speaking all day in another court, and am rather exhausted," he said.

"Next case!" said the Judge.

The lawyer in this case, too, arose and begged to be excused. "I," said he, "have been listening all day to Mr. Smith."

The village blacksmith entered the dispensary looking rather white and shaky.

"I've injured my hand rather badly, sir," he explained to the doctor.

The doctor examined the hand and looked grave.

"Thomas," he said to an attendant, "go upstairs and bring me down that phial on the table."

With indignation the blacksmith leaped to his feet.

"File!" he cried. "No, you don't. If this hand has to come off you'll use a knife or an ax."

He was one of nature's gentlemen, was the tramp, and his charming smile was his only asset.

"You look healthy enough," said the woman at the door. "Why not try to earn an honest living?"

"Appearances are deceptive," returned the other; and he smiled his wonder smile. "Might I add that you are charming and beautiful enough to grace the films, yet evidently you prefer the simple life?"

Re-Forestry Note Sounded At Yale

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 24.—America is beginning to pay the price for cutting off her forests and the thing will end only when re-forestry is carried on more than three times as fast as at present, Henry S. Graves dean of Yale School of Forestry recently sounded such a warning adding however that the country is now "entering the stage of forest production."

"There are sections of the country that have been set back many years in the industrial development by destruction of their chief resource' says Dean Graves. "Our problem" he explained, "concerns the productive use of nearly one-third of the country's land. We have to do with the sustaining of an important group of industries which give support to over six per cept of the population of the country."

Then the dean points out that "if we are to meet our needs for the future the growth of forests must be more than treble. It is our duty" among other things he said "to reproduce thrifty trees of good species on the 8,000,000 acres cut annually and to restore forests on 80,000,000 acres now producing nothing of potential value.'

It may be hot, but a fellow named Luke Warm was arrested in Chicago.

Cross, Feverish Child is Bilious or Constipated

Look, Mother! See if tongue is coated, breath hot or stomach sour

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Fig Syrup", that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless, "fruity laxative", and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup", which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, sold by "California Fig Syrup Company".

SIN UNCOVERED

BERLIN, Md. — The next time bootleggers cache any of their goods in these part they are going to consult the fish and game directories first. Their last treasure was buried in the sand of an inlet right in the edge of a clam bed and was unearthed when Rev. Lewis B. Sheen, returning with friends from a search for clams, kicked what proved to be a case containing several bottles of gin. The liquid was turned over to the authorities.

WHO PUSHED THE TRUCK?

NEW YORK—Houdini, greatest of magicians, is dead, but apparently his feats live after him. Delbert Brown, truck driver, must have seen Houdini in action in some of his daring feats. At least Brown called the magician's methods into play when Brown's big truck backed into the Hudson river. As the truck sank to a depth of 20 feet he broke open a door, wriggled through the opening and bobbed to the surface. The gallery was small but appreciative.

WHAT ABOUT CANOES?

KINGSTON, Jamaica. — This is a pay enter town now. The legislative council has adopted the plan in vogue on street car and bus lines and applied it to vessels entering the local harbor. Hereafter every boat entering this port will pay two cents per ton to "park." The money thus raised will be used to improve harbor dockage and install more navigation lights.

Supreme Court Gives Opinion On City Zoning

Free Hand Is Given Zoning Commissions In Making Regulations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Cities and boroughs are given virtually unlimited power to restrict business and apartment development to certain specified areas under a decision of the supreme court upholding the constitutionality of the zoning ordinance of Euclid, Ohio, a suburb of Cleveland. The opinion holds in substance that municipalities of any size may enact and enforce whatever zoning laws are considered necessary for the comfort and protection of their citizens.

In the particular case under consideration, the Cleveland suburb was upheld in its enactment of a zoning ordinance location of trades, industries, apartment houses, two-family houses, single-family houses, etc., the lot area to be built on, and the size and height of buildings, etc. The court declared the community had the right to do what it did, and in so holding laid down rules for the guidance of municipalties large and small throughout the country in enforcing zoning regulations.

WESTMINSTER DEBATERS WILL MAKE TRIP SOUTH

Many Colleges To Be Met In Schedule Of Debates For Coming Season

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 24.—Westminster college men's debate team may make a trip through the South during the coming season, if present plans go through, according to announcement by members of Tau Kappa Alpha, the honorary debate fraternity on the campus.

The announcement has created considerable interest. A similar trip through the East was taken two years ago and the debaters experienced an enviable time. Their success was not marked in victories but their appearances on the platforms of large schools in the East gave Westminster good publicity.

The Southern trip if taken, will call for debates in Ohio, Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia and Florida. Schools with whom tentative dates have been arranged are: Roanoke College in Virginia, Macon College at Lynchburg, Va., and Emery University near Atlanta, Ga. The trip will be taken the week before and continuing into Easter vacation.

The schedule for debates with schools of the vicinity is about complete. Geneva and Grove City are to be met in a triangular debate while a triangular involving Thiel, Grove City and Westminster may be arranged. Temple University at Philadelphia, Bethany, Pitt and W. & J. may be met. There is a possibility that Wheaton College may come here to debate in April.

The varsity squad will number about 12 men. Preliminary tryouts for the squad which include Freshmen and Sophomores will be held after Christmas holidays. Dr. C. A. Dawson, Dr. E. B. Russell, Prof. C. W. McKee and R. A. Gettman will have charge.

Five debaters who won the scrolled "W" will form the nucleus for the squad. They are: Brown Bricker of N. Braddock, Robert Ferguson of Bellevue, Halden Williams of Carnegie, Jesse Cogley of Braddock and Samuel Colman of Philadelphia.

Report Terrifying Experiences With Chinese Pirates

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Five American sisters, belonging to the Mary Knott Mission, under the charge of Rev. Fletcher, an American, have arrived in Hong Kong bringing a story of terrifying experiences at the hands of Chinese pirates, according to a Central News Dispatch.

Leaving Kongmoon aboard the Steamer Weihei, a dozen pirates who were travelling as passengers, took control of the vessel and bound the passengers. The Americans were forced into their cabins where they were imprisoned for sixty hours.

The pirates eventually grounded the vessel and decamped.

The vessel then became prey for all river pirates and before the Americans had escaped from the ship no less than twenty bands of pirates had boarded the ship and each gang stole something, finally taking the shoes and crucifixes from the American sisters.

The party returned to Kongmoon in a state of exhaustion.

You don't have to wonder if the "old bus" will start—if you use the new Atlantic winter Gasoline

A COLD day. Your car chilled from long standing at the curb. Haven't you, in previous winters, often approached it wondering how long it would take you to get going?

There's another winter just ahead. And you can kill that old "will-it-start" dread now by doing one small, simple thing: Put the new Atlantic winter gasoline in your tank and stick to it.

Atlantic winter gasoline is different from Atlantic summer gasoline. The basic formula is the same—it's the same remarkable combination of petroleum elements that made Atlantic the gasoline sensation of the year. BUT it is specially refined—made more volatile for easier vaporizing and starting at low temperatures.

With Atlantic winter gasoline you'll get quick action every time your foot touches the starter. It's quick on the trigger! It's determined—it keeps going—won't let your motor "die" after the first few revolutions, as with ordinary gasoline. And power!—it's simply packed with power. You'll discover that the moment you hit the hills.

Remember—use Atlantic winter gasoline from now on. Every Atlantic pump has it.

Men Caught In Mine By Flood Now Imprisoned For Eight Days

(International News Service)

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 24. —Although diamond drills today continued to pierce the mountainside near here to reach high breasts of the mine where it is thought six men may have sought safety from flood waters which swept into the workings eight days ago, rescue workers saw little possibility that the men would be rescued alive. The men were trapped in the Tomhicken colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal company when a nearby creek flooded the workings.

With one four-inch hole completed to the high chambers of the mine three others were under way today. When they are completed all high breasts of the mine will have been reached in an effort to find the entombed victims alive.

Unless some signal can be obtained from the men through the test holes, all hope of rescuing them alive will be abandoned. It will be several days before the number 18 gang way, where the miners were working when the flood occurred, can be reached through the regular entrance to the mine, rescue workers said. Water and debris must be cleared away.

Company officials were making arrangements today to fence off a portion around the mouth of the mine to prevent crowds from hindering rescue workers tomorrow, a holiday among the miners.

Ellwood Pioneer Dies On Tuesday

Thomas Dugan Passes Away At Home At Age Of 92 Years

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Nov. 24—At five forty-five o'clock last evening, after a brief attack of pneumonia, Thomas Dugan passed away at his home on Fourth street.

Mr. Dugan is remembered by the older residents of the town as one of the first settlers, who came to Ellwood in 1892, and helped Mr. Hartman and Mr. Blatt lay out the town. Mr. Dugan built the first brick building in Ellwood, which still stands on Lawrence avenue, known as the Dugan Block.

Mr. Dugan was born in England, coming to America in 1863. During his active life he was interested in the hotel business, owning a hotel in Pittsburgh for thirty-five years, known as the Dugan House. During the earlier part of his residence in Ellwood City he owned and operated a hotel.

The deceased has been retired from active business life for the past 26 years, but up until ten years ago, maintained an active interest in local institutions, mentally keeping in touch with various affairs until the end. Mr. Dugan was vice-president of the First National bank for many years, and instrumental in starting many now-flourishing business projects here.

The deceased is survived by his widow Mrs. Gwendolyn Dugan, and the following relatives, who will arrive tomorrow to attend the funeral: Thomas Dugan of Lancaster, Pa., and Alfred Dugan of Indiana, Pa., nephews; Fanny and Elizabeth Dugan of Cleveland, sisters; John Green, a nephew from Newport, Ky., Mrs. Harry Robb, Mrs. William Gilland of Wheeling, and Mrs. Ray Hamilton, grand-nieces; and Mrs. Blanch Ashlay and her two daughters of Glenshaw. Mrs. David Reese and son Howard, mother and brother of Mrs. Dugan arrived this morning from Warren, Ohio.

Services will be conducted from the house by the Rev. A. M. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church, Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment will be private. For the present the body of the deceased will rest in the Oak Park Mausoleum at New Castle, and later Mrs. Dugan plans to erect a sarcophagus in the Locust Grove cemetery in honor of her husband's memory.

New Castle Man Gains Five Pounds; He Credits World's Tonic

More Than 5,000 Signed Statements Proclaim the Power of a New System Tonic and Blood Purifier to Relieve Tired Feelings, Backaches, Headaches and Obstinate Cases of Constipation and Stomach Disorders.

World's Tonic, which is so highly recommended by well known residents of this city, is different from any other medicine. It is not one of those old-time remedies that nauseate the stomach and gripe the bowels. Such old-time remedies, like old-fashioned country doctors who did nothing but bleed and physic the patient are fast becoming things of the past.

Advanced science points to the wonders accomplished by well regulated diet, sanitary methods, the growth development powers of vitamines and treatments that rid the body of germs, poisons and microbes. World's Tonic is among the discoveries of the latter class.

There are now on hand more than 5,000 signed statements, given by people who have been relieved of their ailments by World's Tonic—many from doctors, druggists, nurses and other familiar with the actions of medicines. The results obtained have been truly remarkable. World's Tonic gives you greater strength, more vitality and power of endurance.

World's Tonic is made from the extracts and juices of roots, barks and herbs that have a good influence on every part of the body. It invigorates every nerve, gland, muscle and organ, thus establishing good digestion and bowel action.

It doesn't make any difference how badly you suffer with indigestion, how long you have had backache, headache and tired feelings or how obstinate your case of constipation; it doesn't make any difference how many remedies you have tried without avail. World's Tonic will help you regain your health for it is unlike anything you have ever tried before.

Kidney Trouble Relieved

William C. Jones, 424 Epworth street, this city, says, "Before taking World's Tonic I had kidney trouble and I suffered with a terrible pain in my back. It was especially bad when I get up in the morning. By nightfall I was usually tired and worn out. I began to lose weight. Food all tasted the same to me. I had headaches that were so severe they almost blinded me. I was constipated, too. Although I took many different kinds of laxatives, none of them gave me permanent relief.

However, after reading about World's Tonic I was convinced that it was something different. I decided to try it and I'm mighty glad that I did. I don't have the pains in my back now. I have a good appetite and enjoy my meals. When night comes I'm not "all in." I'm recommending World's Tonic to all of my friends. I gained five pounds while taking World's Tonic. Get it at McKees, Kut Rate Store, Smith's, Paisley's and Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., and all other real drug stores.

Little Virginia Doubts Santa Claus' Existence

But Her Doubts And Fears Are Set At Rest, And This Year Santa Will Come Here "In Person" To Answer Once And Forever The Skeptics

The Garden of Happiness,
Top of The World,
North Pole.

My Dear Friends':—

Once upon a time I recived a letter from a little girl which read as follows:

"Dear Santa:—

"I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?

"Your loving friend,
"VIRGINIA."

I turned this letter over to the Editor of a newspaper and he wrote Virginia a letter. People all over the world have read this letter and no doubt our parents remember having read it before.

"Vidginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in this intelligence as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas, how dreary would be the world be if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

This year You'll See Santa.

"Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

"No Santa Claus! Thank God! he lives and he lives forever. A thousand years from now Virginia, nay, ten thousand times ten thousand years from now he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

Now wasn't that a nice letter for the Editor to write to poor little Virginia.

Preparing For a Big Trip.

You, my dear children need not write such letters to me because I am writing each day to you and am telling you about the wonderful plans that are being made for my reception in New Castle on December 10 when I arrive with Mrs. Santa Claus, the good fairies, the Brownies, the six reindeer and the Eskimo family.

When we get to New Castle we will have a big parade right through the main street and if you are there with your mamma and see us, forever and forever afterwards you will know that I really do exist and that I really and honestly do have Brownies and fairies and that I honestly do have a sleigh and reindeer to carry me over hill and through dale; across drifted snow and out from the Garden of Happiness for a world-wide trip on Christmas Eve.

When I write you a letter on Friday I will tell you about the wonderful Christmas that the birds and the beasts of the forest have.

Your lovingly
SANTA.

I was filled with gas and had severe pains in my right side. I could not think and had lost all ambition to do anything. Doctor's medicine did not touch me. My cousin advised MAYR'S, which snatched me from the grave. I have gained sixty pounds, eat like a hired man and am looking 'em over again". Work Nears Completion On Convalescence Home Near Portersville

MRS. HALL SAYS MANY TO ENTER

New Castle's proposed convalescent home, located on the state road between Portersville and Ellwood City, in Perry township, is very near completion and will open in the spring, according to Mrs. Mae M. Hall, who is sponsoring this project.

On Friday of this week the sun parlor will be finished, and as this is the last work to be done on the home itself, the rest of the time between now and spring may be spent in preparations for the comfort of the applicants.

Many people have filed application for admittance to the home, not all of them being residents of this city. Mrs. Hall wishes to have it known that although this home is especially for the people of New Castle, no one who is in need shall be turned away. Another thing is the fact that there is no age or religious restrictions on the home. All that is necessary is that anyone wishing to enter must have someone with them when they first go there. An invalid child should have its mother or father.

The main building is a one-story, bungalow type of house, having in it a large living room, pantry and kitchen and three bedrooms. The pantry and kitchen are free for anyone of the occupants to use; also the living room will have in it all kinds of reading material and a piano. Besides this, there is a new porch on the rear of the building, which is open and will give anyone desiring the morning air and sun a chance to get it. On the side of the house is a large sun parlor, where they may rest and bask in the warm afternoon sun coming from the west.

The barracks, on the lower side from the house, will be the place where the patients will stay, with this and the main building alone 25 patients being cared for.

Beside this is a large barn. In this the food may be stored. Next to the barn is a large two-story garage, where the cars of visitors will be kept, and if necessary, the second floor will make a splendid place for tubercular cases, as persons having this trouble will not stay with the regular patients. The garage will be roomy and airy, making it a splendid place.

When it is necessary to have more room than can be had in the two buildings the tents, which are to be had, will be called into action. There is plenty of room for tents, and with fine weather for sleeping out in the open there in the summer time, and platforms to put the tents on, it will make a fine and healthy place for the old and young.

Other advantages which those staying here will have are a fine large garden, covering a good bit of the 12 acres of which the home is comprised; cream, milk and eggs fresh every day, free of charge, and fine reading material, as well as entertainment for the young children. A spring of ice cold water will be run into a pump just outside of the house.

Any person desiring to enter, or having relatives whom they would like to place in a place of this kind, may receive information concerning it by getting in touch with Mrs. Hall at the Hannah Music Store on the Diamond.

Alabama Governor Plans To Fight Liquor Charge

Alabama Executive Will Make Appearance In Court To Answer Charge

(International News Service)

BAY MINETTE, Ala., Nov. 24.—Declaring that a raid on a fishing camp near Magnolia Beach was inspired by political enemies to "embarrass" him, Governor William W. Brandon today expressed his willingness to appear in court here December 6, to answer to the charge of violating the prohibition law.

The raid, conducted by Sheriff Stuart and deputies, resulted in the confiscation of 13 quarts of whiskey, and the arrest of Brandon and nine other men in the camp. All gave bond of $300 each for a hearing at the next term of the Baldwin County court.

When the deputies entered the camp, Brandon and his companions were playing cards. The Governor denied ownership of the liquor and said he was merely a guest and was ignorant of the fact that whiskey had been kept there.

Making Effort To Save Doomed Man

Polish People Of Western Pennsylvania Behind Move In Behalf Of Orlakowski

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24.—Forty thousand western Pennsylvanians of Polish ancestry today stood behind a concerted move which is expected to reach to the White House and the governor's office in Harrisburg in an effort to save Paul Orlakowski, of Pittsburgh, alleged slayer, from the death penalty.

Rev. A. Muscznski, of Carnegie, spokesman for a group of western Pennsylvania Polish societies, was in Harrisburg today to plead for a stay of execution for Orlakowski, who is sentenced to die in Rockview penitentiary next Monday. Meantime, members of the Polish Legation in Washington were to appeal to the president in behalf of Orlakowski, a Polish citizen, who was convicted of slaying two prison guards at Rockview.

Orlakowski was alleged to have taken part in a riot at the prison in which the two guards were killed. Representatives of the Polish societies claimed after investigation that the condemned man had no part in the riot.

The date for Orlakowski's execution was postponed by Governor Pinchot on appeal by Polish residents here pending further investigation, and the governor is now being asked to further extend the date.

New Curtains For Auditorium At High School

If the new curtains ordered for Senior High School auditorium are in place by December 4, as expected, the school play to be given December 8 and 9 will have a more pleasing setting than has ever yet been possible.

The velour curtain, ordered by the school board, is to be dull green with a silver sheen. The cyclorama curtain of monk's cloth, with five openings and three valances, is the gift of the class of 1925, and makes possible a variety of effective backgrounds.

Much of the success of the play depends upon the atmosphere conveyed in the stage setting. Miss Emilie Salomon, art supervisor in the city schools, and Miss Bess Gailey of the Senior High School Art Department, have been responsible for the attractive interiors shown in previous performances.

The scene of the forthcoming play, "A Lucky Break," is a summer hotel in Connecticut, and dramatic fans are expecting a stage setting which will transport them to vacation scenes some eight months ahead of time.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

A FRIGHT AND A FLIGHT

"Wander was a dog, to be sure, but there were times when he could be very fierce indeed, then his hair would bristle and his eyes glow red, and should his own brother come upon him in such a mood it is likely he would not know him. To the startled horses, Wander looked much like a wolf, a cruel and terrible wolf.

"Horses are brave, acushlas. Woe to the foe who ventures too near their teeth or heels. But after all, a horse is no match for the fierce forest four-foots and he knows it. As well as being brave a horse is very very wise. While he is still a tiny colt he learns that 'he who fights and runs away will live to fight another day.' Cornered, a horse will fight as long as there is breath left in him, but attacked in the open he will take to his swift heels to save his neck!

"'Turn back! Run for your lives!' snarled Wander in his crossest tone, and the wild horses, seeing their unlucky comrade was indeed the captive of the two-legs and that they had come too late to his rescue, decided it was high time they saw to their own safety and got out of the way of the dog-wolf.

"Never did horses run as did those horses, children! Their heels seemed scarcely to touch the sod. And Wander sped snapping at their heels. He chased them down the valley, yelping the most dreadful threats at them, threats that he didn't mean to carry out at all, but how were the wild horses to guess that the dog-wolf at their heels was really a good natured fellow? As a matter of fact Wander wouldn't have so much as nipped their flanks unless they had kicked him, but they didn't know that! Here was a splendid chance for Wander to show his power and he was going to make the most of it. And Wander ran so fast and so far that when he turned 'round to look for master, and the prancing horse his master had captured, they were almost out of sight.

"TURN BACK! RUN FOR YOUR LIVES" BARKED WANDER.

"'Shame on me for an ungrateful beast!" growled Wander. 'Master takes me hunting and I run off and leave him. Sure and I'm no more to be trusted than a silly jack rabbit. By master's side I am one moment and the next I am where my fancy leads me. I should have stayed with master, lending my aid to make Coal Black Beauty obey him. Suppose Black Beauty had thrown master from his back! Would I have been on hand to help him? No! What if master had been wounded! Would I have been by to lick his wounds? No! Bad dog that I am at the very time he might most have needed me I was speeding down the valley. I can't expect master to put faith in me if I am to put pleasure before duty as I have twice done this day'!"

Next: "Kindness, Not Cruelty'."

Dr. C. A. Dawson At Convention

Westminster College Instructor At Buffalo Attending Notable Conference

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 24.—Dr. Charles A. Dawson, head of the department of English at Westminster College, will leave on Thursday evening for Buffalo, N. Y., where he will attend the fortieth annual convention of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Middle States and Maryland, to be held on Friday and Saturday under the auspices of Buffalo University, Nichols Schools and Buffalo Seminary.

The convention will open with a general session at which questions of interest to the administrations of all schools will be discussed. The main topic at this session will be "Some Phases of Religious and Ethical Training in Schools and Colleges" with the noted Rabbi Stephen A. Wise of New York, as the principal speaker.

After the general session the convention will be conducted in smaller sections, among these being the sections in history, classical languages, science, mathematics, and English. The English section which Dr. Dawson will attend, will have as its subject, "The Freshman's Preparation in Composition."

The fact that Westminster is a member of the Association is one of great interest, since, in order to become a member a school must have a high scholastic standing. Each member of the Association is entitled to one delegate. Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster, appointed Dr. Dawson to represent Westminster.

NEW CASTLE TO WIND-UP GRID SEASON TOMORROW

Meet Erie Academy In "Turkey Day" Game

Expect Largest Crowd Of Season To Witness Schoolboy Teams In Closing Classic; New Castle High Slight Favorites To Defeat Academy Team; Visitors Will Have Strong Outfit; Locals In Excellent Condition For Final Battle Of Year; Red And Black Finish Training Today And Await Word That Sends Them Into Action For Last Time; Field Sloppy And Partly Covered With Snow Is Weather Outlook For Game; Kick-Off Takes Place At 2:30 O'clock

By "BUGS WALTHER

TOMORROW afternoon thousands of gridiron fans will troup to the Ben Franklin High stadium, there to witness the final football game of the 1926 season. The kick-off takes place at 2:30 o'clock.

New Castle High and Erie Academy, trained to the minute and ready for conflict, will furnish the thrills of the annual Thanksgiving Day classic in this man's domain. Both teams are on edge for this important meeting.

Academy High brings to this city one of the strongest teams that has represented the Erie school in the past several years. They point to Academy as the cream of the northwest section. New Castle holds a distinctive place in the western Pennsylvania grid world. The game here tomorrow should furnish a contrast of the two districts.

Taking a long shot from the ninth hole, it is my guess that the field will be muddy and partly covered with snow. Erie carries the advantage in weight, and should the weatherman continue with the kind of "jokes" he has been playing for the past few weeks, the invaders will find the field much to their liking. On the other hand, should the ground be hard and firm, New Castle High, with a light, fast team, will enter the struggle holding the advantage. It is an old saying that it is bad policy to pick the ponies on a "wet track".

End Training Today

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh will send the Red and Black clad warriors through their final workout today. The practice will consist of running through signals and brushing up on a few plays. Following the session the boys will go into seclusion to await the command that sends them into action for the last time this year. Erie Academy High will wind up their training today and will board the "rattlers" early Thursday morning for New Castle. The Erie equad will number 20 men, according to word received here by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner.

The Erie team will arrive in New Castle shortly before noon on Thursday and will quarter at the Y. M. C. A. according to scheduled plans.

Coach Bridenbaugh feels confident that his team will come out of the turmoil and strife tomorrow afternoon on top of the heap. Bridenbaugh witnessed the Dayton-Steel and Academy game last week and while he holds every respect for the strong Erie team, yet he feels that New Castle has an edge and that the Red and Black arsits are about one touchdown better than the Lake City crew.

Turk Is Crippled.

The New Castle squad is in the pink of condition for the battle with the exception of Earl Turk, steller halfback, who sufered a strained tendon in practice on Monday afternoon and was forced to remain idle on Tuesday afternoon.

Coach Bridenbaugh hopes to have the Mahoningtown "bearcat" in shape for the Erie game. Turk is one of the most elusive backs that New Castle high has had in many years and is counted upon to be one of the big ground gainers against the Blue and Gold cohorts. However "Tippy" Richards the versatile youngster who has played a whirlwind game at halfback this year is ready for service and together with Klaber may start the game. Tommy Harper, the plunging fullback is sufficiently recovered from his recent injury and will be found at his customary post. Harper suffered two badly sprained ankles in the Ellwood-New Castle battle.

Twelve of the New Castle High boys will play their final game tomorrow afternoon. Coach Bridenbaugh was reluctant about what might occur but it is a well known contention that he will use everyone of the 12 men in the game at some time or other.

Visitors Are Strong.

Erie Academy High will prove one of the hardest nuts to crack that the locals have had this year. The lake town aggregation after their 6 to 0 setback at the hands of Dayton Steele High are raring to go and they intend to wipe out that New Castle jinx that has already downed Erie East.

In Temple and Fuller the Erie team has a pair of backfield men who will cause New Castle plenty of trouble. Both boys are of the elusive type and are adept at skirting the ends. In the Dayton Steele game Temple broke away time and time again for gains of 35 and 40 yards at the terminals, while Fuller was used at the tackle plunges. Fuller has done the brunt of the work this year for Academy High according to the dope but his interference has been what one could call effective.

Centers Are Leaders.

An interesting battle will take place tomorrow afternoon in the center of the line. Captain Harry Robinson is the snapper-back for the Red and Black and Captain Parsons holds down the same position for Erie. Had it not been for the fighting leader of the Academy team in the Dayton Steele game the Ohioans would have crossed the goal line more than once. Parsons is a deadly tackle, and a tower of strength on the defense. Robinson is one of the best tackles that New Castle has shown this year and is invaluable to the team from many standpoints.

Robinson will be playing his final high school game. The "titian haired" leader will be missed when it comes time to form another team for 1927. Robinson will enter the game Thursday with that same indomitable spirit that has prevailed all year and things look rather bad for Erie when the popular New Castle leader gets into action.

Erie Outweighs Locals.

According to the figures supplied today the Academy backfield will average 162 pounds against 152 for the Red and Black. The Erie line will average 158, against 160 for the New Castle gridders. W. Kinsinger, the Erie halfback, is the heaviest man on the squad, wieghing 175 pounds.

With a weight advantage the Erie boys will have the edge on a wet slippery field. New Castle's "pony backfield" has shown to better advantage this year on a dry field.

Prepare For Crowd.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner was making preparations today to take care of the largest throng that has witnessed a game at the Franklin stadium this year. A special section of the field has been marked off to take care of the 500 fans that will accompany the Erie team. A suitable place has also been arranged for the Erie Academy band of over 50 pieces.

Following are the probable lineups of the "turkey day" battle:

New Castle		Erie Academy
145 McGrath	LE	Travis	155
165 Millison	LT	Malthaner	154
150 Mooney	LG	Feichter	187
165 Robinson	C	Parsons	165
170 Temple	RG	Ferrare	150
175 Chrisman	RT	Flint	159
155 Ostrosky	RE	Erhart	162
145 Sillman	QB	Speicher	157
155 Richards	LH	Fuller	158
150 Klaber	RH	Kinsinger	175
160 Harper	FB	Temple	160

Referee—"Ted" Fry, Pitt.
Umpire—Parsons, Geneva.
Head linesman—Harr, Geneva.

What "Honeyboy" Finnegan would like to know is whether he is a champion or whether he is not. After his defeat of "Chick" Suggs, the Massachusetts boxing commission bestowed the featherweight title on "Honeyboy", but the New York boxing commission says the Boston battler must perform some more before he is entitled to the crown.

Lincoln Five To Open Season By Meeting Butler

Strong Bel-Ve-Dere Club Of Butler Here For Game Thanksgiving

The Lincoln-Five basketball team, junior champions of Lawrence County in 1925-26, will inaugurate their floor season on Thanksgiving night by meeting the fast Butler Bel-Ve-Dere club. The game will be staged on the Y. M. C. A. floor, and will start at 8:15 o'clock.

The Lincolns have been practicing for the past month under Coach "Fiz" Frazier and they are ready for the floor campaign. The Lincolns will replace the Castle Five as the junior team of New Castle this year. The Bel-Ve-Deres met the Castles last year and were defeated only after a fast battle.

In their first year as an organization the Lincolns won 19 games and lost 6, and were the runners-up for the junior title of Lawrence County. In 1925-26 the Lincolns captured the city and county title, after a hard fight through a stiff tournament.

The Lincolns lineup this year consists of the following men: Jones, Mariacher, Uhle, VanFossan, Hoskins, Baptiste, Cuba, Kirker, and Nocera.

The team has purchased new uniforms of striking Red and Black colors which will present a neat appearance.

The Butler aggregation will come to New Castle imbued with the idea of taking home a victory but the Lincolns will have something to say regarding this. Ray Nolte former Castle Five star will referee the game.

Liberty Five To Practice Tonight

The Liberty Five basketball team will hold a practice tonight at 7 o'clock at the Lincoln-Garfield gym floor. The practice will be in charge of Coach "Bub" Jones.

Coach Jones intends to pick his first and second teams tonight. At a recent meeting of the team at the home of Tony Tino it was voted to purchase new uniforms for the team. Dave Rogovin was named as captain of the team this year.

Manager Tino would like to book a game for Friday night either at home or abroad. For games call 4843-M or write to 605 East Long avenue, care manager Tony Tino.

The following players are asked to report for practice tonight: M. Kulich, Ed Roher, L. Lewis, Tony Tino, D. Rogovin, G. Jenkins, B. Parker, E. Reiber, E. Gennock, G. Thomas and Coach Jones.

The sun in which the great American autumn game of football has been basking for the last few weeks will begin to set on Thanksgiving day; it will disappear entirely two days later with the great Army-Navy game in Chicago, leaving nothing more to end the year's history except the selection of the numerous all-American and all-sectional teams and a few specially arranged contests in which some of the Pacific coast teams will be pitted against rivals from the east and elsewhere.

Flaherty Gets Letter At Yale

Local Boy Has Two Letters, Having Received "Y" For Baseball

Preston Flaherty, son of P. J. Flaherty, Berger place has received his second athletic letter at Yale, having been given a "Y" for football. Flaherty was a member of the varsity this season and received his letter Saturday having played against Harvard at New Haven.

Due to injuries received early in the season Flaherty was only able to play in one game this year, prior to the Harvard-Yale clash.

Due to the early season injuries Flaherty was not in the best of condition for a gruelling battle but he was put into the game in the last period.

He took Rube Benton's place at right tackle. He had been named a regular guard but due to his speed and ability at tackling and breaking up interference he was switched to tackle by Tad Jones.

Out of a squad of 100, only 26 received their letter. Three of these men were from Pennsylvania.

It is believed that Flaherty is the first New Castle boy to ever win two major letters at Yale, and like other boys who have gone to colleges and universities, is furthering the athletic prestige of New Castle.

Name Beede Coach For Next Two Years

COACH DYKE BEEDE

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 24.—Westminster College grid fans welcomed the announcement from Graduate Manager of Athletics A. A. McDonald that Dwight "Dyke" Beede of Youngstown, O., has been signed to a two year contract as head grid coach, with distinct favor. In his one year here, Beede impressed football fans throughout the district with his ability.

Beede is a product of Carnegie Tech where he starred under the tutlage of Wally Steffen. When Westminster began to look for a possible coach a year ago, it was deemed wise to obtain one who would be able to utilize all possible speed since it was forseen that the material would be light.

Beede was the choice as it was known that Tech used a system dependent on speed and trickery. "Dyke" was given the highest possible recommendations by Wally Steffen and "Doc" Marks, the latter assistant Tech coach and team physician, who is a Westminster product.

The move on the part of Athletic Council in again deciding on Beede and this time adding a two-year clause to his contract, is ample proof of the high regard in which he is held. Next year he will have veteran material available and will not be forced to devote the greater part of his time to the installing of the basis of his system as he did this year.

The Thanksgiving day game of Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania marks the 33rd clash between these grid foes the first game being played in 1893. Of these games Pennsylvania has triumphed on 24 occasions, while the Red and White has seven victories to its credit. In 1906 the teams battled to a scoreless tie.

The Princeton football squad will be shot to pieces by the graduation next spring, as 12 of the players who took part in the Harvard and Yale games this year will receive their sheepskins next June.

Football Chapel At Senior High

Members Of Football Team Are Honored By Schoolmates Tuesday

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR ERIE CONTEST

Football chapel was held Tuesday at the senior high school and judging from the spirit and pep shown by the student body it was a complete success.

Robert Millison had charge of the program and Bob can speak as well as he can play tackle, and that is saying a lot. Several songs were sung immediately after the devotional period under the direction of LaVerne Irvine. The singing was great and even the boys came thru with their part of the noise when they were called upon to perform.

Ralph Gardner, faculty manager of athletics, made several announcements regarding the coming game on Thanksgiving and he also publicly thanked organizations and people for the kindnesses that they had done to make the season a success.

The National Radiator company for the line markers which enable one to see just how many yards that New Castle has to go before they are credited with a touchdown. Saturday night is a sorry night for most of the players for it is then that the bruises and bumps received during the progress of the afternoon make themselves noticed. In fact these troubles are sometimes in need of a little professional treatment and the boys have gone freely to the following doctors for aid without having to think about how much they would have left to step out with the lady of their heart: Zerner, Wilson, Perry, Campbell, Burchfield, etc. About the best of all of the things he mentioned during his talk especially for the members of the squad was the fact that they are to be banqueted at a later date by a combined committee of Rotarians, Lions and Kiwanians.

A group of loyal fans and friends of Mr. Bridenbaugh and Mr. Gardner have secured reservations and tickets for the Army-Navy game to be played at Chicago on Saturday and have made them a present of them. This is some trip but they surely deserve it for they have worked hard and long thruout the football season. He also congratulated the "boosters" on their organization and spirit at the Schenley game.

Asks For Sportsmanship.

Mary Elizabeth Shannon spoke next and she made a plea for better treatment of the visiting teams and the visiting fans. She cited a few instances where the New Castle fans had acted disgracefully toward visitors and asked that the students cooperate in welcoming Erie Academy high.

A "booster," a certain Mr. Lamoree, was next and he did not talk long but he gave the students a very inspiring message. He admitted that the students of Ne-Ca-Hi had come across with the goods at the Schenley game and he would like to see the same spirit in the cheering on "Turkey Day".

Ralph "Scooter" Day, who is back home visiting during the holidays, was persuaded to come to the platform and he was unable to get away without addressing the jubilant audience. He told of the season that they have completed at Kiski and told of the school life and ended up by remarking wholeheartedly that he was sure glad to get back home again.

Swimming Class Meets Tonight

New Wilmington High Will Play West Middlesex

Thanksgiving Day Contest To Be Played On Mercer County Grid

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 24.—Strengthened by the return of "Bill" James and Davis to the lineup, the New Wilmington high school football team will attempt to bring the 1926 season to a very successful close Thursday afternoon when West Middlesex high school is played at West Middlesex. James is the team's best ball carrier on jaunts around the ends while Davis is a veteran end. Both lads were barred from the lineup in the game with Parker's Landing last Saturday because of low grades but they have re-established themselves and will be eligible for the finale.

According to Coach Wiggins, his lads came through the contest last Saturday in good shape. Many felt that the visitors should have been beaten by a larger score, but weather conditions were very poor. Playing on a field covered with snow, the backs could not get their footing while an aerial attack was a waste of energy with hands numbed with cold.

This week, Wiggins has been holding secret drills on the floor of the gym. New plays are being rehearsed while both the defense and offense are being re-touched.

The Turkey Day contest between New Wilmington and West Middlesex are always bitterly contested and this year's fray promises to be no exception. Last season, a small New Wilmington team defeated West Middlesex by two touchdowns. This year, the "Big Reds" will be determined to even matters if possible.

A large number of fans will accompany the team.

Academy High Will Be Supported By Some 500 Rooters On Thursday

Advance Agents For Strong Erie Team Predict Victory For Lake City

Erie Schoolboy Band Will Vie With New Castle For Music Honors

According to word received here today the Erie Academy High gridders will be supported when they take the field Thanksgiving Day against the New Castle team.

It is said that in the neighborhood of 500 fans, students and supporters of the strong Erie team will find some means of transportation to this city tomorrow. Trains, busses and automobiles will haul the Erie crowd to Lawrence county, was the advance dope.

The Erie High team will reach New Castle early Thursday morning via the Pennsylvania railroad and will immediately take up quarters in the Y. M. C. A. The Academy High band of 50 pieces will make the trip to this city in machines. The Acadmey band will vie with New Castle's fine band for honors on "Turkey Day." The band contest should prove interesting.

Every circus of any size carries advance men, the work of these men is to placard the town where the next circus will show. Two Erie Academy High boys taking it upon themselves to act as advance men for the Academy team limped into New Castle early Tuesday afternoon after a rather strenuous hike from the Lake city in which the boys walked possibly two miles. The two boys in mention are Andy Kalvelage and Bill Getty. The boys took "Dutch leave" Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and started for New Castle. Due to the kindness of several motorists the boys secured a ride from Erie to Greenville, walked about a mile and then picked up a ride from Greenville to a short distance from this city. Just outside the city they were picked up by another motorist and brought into the confines of Pa Newc.

The two advance agents are members in good standing of the Society "De Gink" of Erie Academy. It is the aim of the society that their members shall use their lower extremities as much as possible for the purpose of getting to their destination, however "rides are not refused" said the boys.

The boys spent Tuesday night and all day Wednesday in trying to convince New Castle citizens that Erie Academy High would come out on top tomorrow.

own-Colgate Battle Greatest Trial For Brown

Brown Team's Season Success Hinges On Taking Contest

BY DAVID J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'l News Service

NEW YORK Nov. 24.—Thanksgiving is understood to be the day everybody says it with harmonicas and tries to forget that he was born human. Be that as it might, the hombre caught smiling out loud around the respective campuses of Alabama and Brown universities will be shot long before sunrise if either or both of these outfits fail to win their football games.

A defeat for either would mean an anti-climax of such consequence as to effect the national situation from coast to coast. If Alabama beats Georgia, it will play Stanford, winner of the coast title at Pasadena, if it doesn't it won't, and a first class chance for self-elimination by one of the unbeaten teams of two great sections will have evaporated into thin air. That's exactly how little Alabama cares about beating Georgia on Thursday.

As for Brown it must beat Colgate or admit that it doesn't belong with the trail-blazers. It will be Brown's hardest game and appropriately, its last of the season and, if history repeats itself, you will laugh unrestrainedly in the vicinity of Providence, R. I, at the risk of your life.

Ten years ago almost to the day Brown came up to the Colgate finale without defeat, just as it is at this time. They were calling it the wonder team of all time at daybreak and the flop of the century at nightfall, for Colgate won by something like 28 to 0. And that's exactly how little Brown cares about beating Colgate.

The latter is as tough as a night in jail, if fate hadn't decreed otherwise, it would have ruined the Navy's record. But the writer thinks Brown will have just enough punch to outscore its rival by a few points.

As for Alabama it should beat Georgia, inspite of the fact that the latter has been coming like a bill collector. The conference champions contrived to play their one bad game against Sewanee in mid-season but now seem to be absolutely at the top of their stride. This if true, will suffice.

Of the remaining undefeated teams, Lafayette and Stanford have finished their seasons, except for the latter's proposed post-season game with Alabama; the Navy is resting for the Army game on Saturday and so is Notre Dame for its meeting with Carnegie Tech. That leaves only Boston College to be accounted for and Holy Cross might arrange that on Thursday. However I don't think so, unless Holy Cross' 3 to 0 defeat by Boston University was a mere slip of the foot. Frankly, I don't believe that, either.

It will be a great day for arch rivals, what with Pennsylvania playing Cornell, Texas facing the Aggie, Vandy meeting Sewanee and Tulane scheduled with Louisiana State; Pittsburgh with Penn State, Georgia Tech with Ala. Poly, Drake with Grinnell and Oklahoma with Oklahoma Aggies.

METZ JURY FAILS TO REACH VERDICT; COURT DISCHARGES

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 24.—Unable to agree after deliberating for more than 20 hours, the jury in the case of Joseph Metz, Oil City councilman, tried for violation of the liquor law, reported disagreement and was discharged. Five women were on the jury.

The jury filed into court at 9:10 and informed Judge Parker it could not agree. The court ordered the jurors to retire again and try for a verdict.

Penn's Leaders — By Feg Murray

Day after tomorrow will see the climax of Pennsylvania's football season in the annual game with Cornell University on Franklin field. Penn has won this game the last two years and is very anxious to make it three in a row, the efforts of Coach "Gloomy Gil" Dobie and Captain Emerson Carey to the contrary notwithstanding.

Here are the two big moguls of Penn football this season, Coach Lou Young and Captain George Thayer. This is Lou's fourth season as coach at Penn and, like Tad Jones and other prominent pigskin mentors, he is coaching for the institution at which he formerly starred as a player. Young likes plenty of competition for his men, and they certainly get it. Last year his team met Brown, Yale, Chicago and Illinois on successive Saturdays in October, and this season they are taking on Illinois, Penn State, Columbia and Cornell in succession.

Lou Young's hidden ball strategy has caused a lot of talk this fall. The dexterity with which the Red and Black backs perform the hocus-pocus which Young has taught them could only be learned by long hours of practice. But Lou Young is a painstaking coach and even his lantern slides made of plays to aid him in showing his pupils what to do.

Captain George Thayer comes from a famous family of Penn football players. He is, in fact, a member of the third generation of Thayers to wear the Red and Blue on the gridiron. Last year Grantland Rice picked George on his all-American team at end for "his defensive ability and skill at handling forward passes". Thayer is big, fast and strong, and has plenty of football sense. In the Penn State game he saved the day for his team by smothering Lungren's attempt to pass. His speed averted a defeat then, and should help Penn beat Cornell on Thanksgiving Day.

Feg Murray Says—

"Michigan's team of 1901 was not the first to turn the trick", claims "Hurry Up" (Buttered) Toast, the great tennis professional. "Back in 1896 I scored a point a minute in a three-set match with Bob Wrenn."

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

ACADEMY High of Erie is coming here Thanksgiving Day to play New Castle High, and a few facts concerning last Saturday's game which Dayton (O.) Steele captured from Academy may not go amiss. While it is true Dayton Steele won, the writer desires to impress upon local grid enthusiasts that Academy has a sweet machine and New Castle High has a tremendous job on deck Turkey Day. Dayton scored 12 first downs to four by Academy, the latter making its best gains in the second quarter—the only period in which they outplayed the Buckeyes.

TWO long end runs, intermingled with several short gains, gave the Blue and Gold, the colors of Academy, a total of 84 yards in the second quarter. It made only 13 through the line, which, totaled, gave Erie a grand total of 97 yards gained in this period. Dayton gained 47 in the period, but in the second half of the game Dayton jumped into the lead and held it throughout, making 180 to 121 yards for Erie. Dayton's line, says Art Monahan of the Times-Dispatch, was vastly ahead of the Erie forward wall, its backs ripping through Erie for 109 yards, while Academy made 27. Academy's big second period edge gave it an edge on the wings, where it showed a profit of 94 yards to Dayton's 74.

DAYTON'S yardage margin is eliminated in the fact that it lost 85 yards through penalties. Academy met with only one five-yard setback, which shows Academy to be a clean aggregation and one on the alert. Subtracting these losses from the respective figures would give Erie a margin of 116 yards gained to the invaders' 95. Though Steele attempted more and completed less passes than Academy, it showed a margin of 25 yards gained to nothing for Academy. The Erie team finished two heaves, but did not gain on either. Dayton completed one of six attempts, good for 25 yards, for a touchdown. Dayton intercepted Erie's passes and put them in scoring position.

HERE is what Academy accomplished: First period, 0; second, 4; third, 0; fourth, 0; total, 4. Yards gained at end: First period, 6; second, 84; third, 0; fourth, 4; total, 94. Through line: First period 8; second, 13; third, 6; fourth, 4; total, 27. Total yardage: First period, 14; second, 97; third, 6; fourth, 4; total, 121. Penalties: first quarter, 5 yards. Passes: First period, attempted 5; completed 2. It is written in the Times-Dispatch that Academy stopped Steele's end runs completely in the last period, the only gains being made by Dayton coming through the line.

DETROIT will be watched next season and the performance of Manager George Moriarty will be the reason. He has had varied experience, in the minors, in the majors as a player, and then as an arbiter in the big show. After leaving the big show, where he played 10 years, he went to a minor league as a manager. He came back to the majors as an umpire in Ban Johnson's circuit, where he has been officiating 10 years. Having had a whirl at all departments, he should have some qualifications for the important post he holds. He was a smart and aggressive player. He may make a mighty good manager, but only time can tell this.

EVERY time a heavyweight championship changes possession, fistic managers the country wide begin a campaign to recruit their stables with men who are long on beef. Having seen Gene Tunney ascend to the chair that all heavyweights aspire to occupy, Jerry Sache, Cleveland, has sent out a call to "all young men of about 185 pounds, pugilistically inclined, to join his Cleveland stable". And, by the way, the writer often wonders why a training place for boxers is called a stable. And for the same reason, why call boxers prizefighters? Once upon a time they did fight for prizes. Today professionals box for money; only amateurs box for prizes. A professional knocks out or wins or loses on points at the rate of one bout a night. An amateur thinks nothing of fighting three or four times a night for a medal. Amateur or professional, it's a strenuous "sport".

BY THE way, this information may be clipped and sent to Jerry Sachs by any person interested, in his call to "heavyweights": "Twenty extra men, each weighing more than 220 pounds, are in the Turkish bath sequence of Bebe Daniels' newest comedy. The heaviest of the group weighs 350 pounds." Managers of boxers who have been angling for big men to enter the ring will shed tears to see so many prospects wasting time as extra men in the movies when they could be exploited as "supermen of the ring" for plenty of coin. But seriously, size and weight isn't everything. Jack Johnson scaled more than 200 and was good, but very few other heavyweights ever won the championship at more than 200 pounds. Jess Willard, like Johnson, was an exception.

THE LONG-LIFE BATTERY FOR YOUR CAR

Product ... Service ... Price

Make sure that these three things are right when you buy a battery

WHEN you are about to buy a battery for your car, there are three decisions to make: 1. Decide that the battery is right in quality. 2. Decide that the service organization behind it is right in both extent and efficiency. 3. Decide that the price is right. On this basis consider the Exide.

Exide's high quality is endorsed by the hundreds of thousands of Exides sold every year. Exide Batteries have a record of long life and freedom from repairs dating back to the pioneer days of electric starting and lighting. They are made by the world's largest manufacturers of storage batteries for every purpose. This position in the battery field is a guarantee that the Exide you buy contains every improvement that the highest engineering skill endorses.

Exide dealers dot the country. More than 8000 of them all over the United States—good business men who know a good battery and the value of your good will. Exide Batteries are priced exceptionally low. You pay no more for an Exide than you do for batteries with less claim to distinction. Sold by Exide dealers everywhere.

RADIO ... There is an Exide Radio Battery of the right size for every set and a type for every tube. See the new Exide Radio Power Unit, consisting of an "A" Battery and special charger, that keeps itself charged from your house current.

ON MAY 24, 1861, A NAVAL FORCE FROM THE U. S. SLOOP-OF-WAR "PAWNEE", CO-OPERATING WITH ZOUAVES LED BY THE ILL-FATED ELLSWORTH, RECEIVED THE SURRENDER OF THE CITY OF ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, AND RAISED THE "STARS AND STRIPES" OVER THE CUSTOM HOUSE.

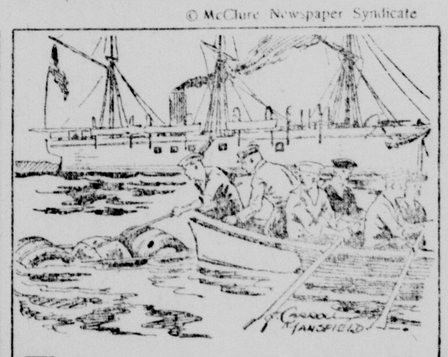

A U.S. MARINE AND SAILORS OF 1861.

THE VIRGINIA SHORE OF THE POTOMAC, SOUTH OF ALEXANDRIA, WAS A CONTINUOUS AMBUSH, AND IT WAS NOT UNTIL UNION SEA AND LAND FORCES COMBINED TO CAPTURE THE CONFEDERATE MASKED BATTERIES THAT FEDERAL NAVIGATION ON THE RIVER COULD BE UNDERTAKEN WITH ANY DEGREE OF SAFETY.

IT WAS ON THE POTOMAC THAT A CRUDE BUT INGENIOUS FORERUNNER OF THE MODERN TORPEDO WAS USED BY THE CONFEDERATES AGAINST THE "PAWNEE". THEN THE LARGEST UNION VESSEL IN THE RIVER. ON JULY 7, 1861, A QUEER OBJECT WAS SEEN IN THE WATER FLOATING TOWARD THE "PAWNEE".

A BOAT WAS LOWERED AND INVESTIGATION SHOWED TWO LARGE CASKS SUPPORTING A TORPEDO OF BOILER IRON WHICH CONTAINED ENOUGH POWDER TO BLOW THE SHIP OUT OF THE WATER. LUCKILY FOR THE "PAWNEE", THE FUSES OF THE DEADLY DEVICE HAD GONE OUT.

Final Arguments In Lake Coal Case Early In February

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Final arguments in the lake coal freight rate hearing will be heard early in February by the interstate commerce commission, it was announced today at the conclusion of a session devoted to the taking of testimony.

Briefs in the case must be filed by January 17, and for an additional ten days the commission will receive documents in reply to the original papers. A final decision is not expected before next March.

Complainants, who are coal operators of the Pittsburgh district and Ohio, were hopeful as the recent session ended. They were more optimistic about the outcome than at any other time.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The industrial stocks and specialties felt the weight of speculative selling and preholiday liquidation at the beginning of trading today. After the opening rally, the bulk of industrial, motor, copper and oil stocks were swept downward in an aggressive selling wave which affected principally the leaders in yesterdays closing advance.

Stocks of Pan American Petroleum, Standard Oil of New Jersey and other American companies with large holdings in Mexico displayed some irregularity as the result of the official announcement of a possible rupture of diplomatic relations with Mexico.

Call money was unchanged at 4½ per cent, for loans extending over the holiday.

Railroad stocks and equipments were in good demand, with Pullman featuring the latter group with a new 3 point rise to around 190. The Nickel Plate stocks were freely sold at slightly lower prices. Oil stocks made a good showing, and Warner Brothers Pictures was strong.

Recover Body Of Man In Harbor

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—The body of a well dressed man believed by police to be that of Clarence E. Cookson, of Philadelphia, was recovered today in the inner harbor at San Pedro, near here.

According to officers the man probably dove off the docks with suicidal intent.

On the back of a letter in the man's pocket was a short note: "Mother, if anything happens to me, have my body cremated."

The letter was evidently sent to Cookson by his mother. It bore the signature "Mother," and a Philadelphia address.

Start Seal Sale; Expect To Dispose Of About 800,000

Once more the sale of Christmas Seals the proceeds of which are devoted to the saving of lives of those afflicted with that dread disease, Tuberculosis, now known as a disease that is preventable as well as curable, is being inaugurated in Lawrence county under the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society.

Last year a new method of disposing of these stamps was tried in this county. It was tried with the hope that the people would help put the sale over in a big way and was a success. Therefore the same plan is being followed this year.

As was the case last year the sale of stamps will be made entirely through the medium of the mails. Letters are being mailed with an appeal for the support. With the letter is one hundred stamps. Those receiving them are asked to send a check or money in payment to the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society in a stamped addressed envelope enclosed with the letter. There will be no stamps sold by the school children officially this year.

Lawrence county's quota this year will be the same as last, 800,000 stamps. When these are sold $8,000 will be raised. Eighty per cent of this money will remain in the chest to carry on the fight against the disease.

Following is a list of some of the work done here in 1925 through the medium of funds raised: One hundred and two half days spent in Well Baby clinics with 1,600 babies enrolled; 196 rural schools visited and health talks given; 3,546 children inspected in rural schools. Inspection included: eye and ear test, head, teeth and throat inspection; 14,586 pints of milk were distributed by the milk and ice fund through the society to tuberculosis sufferers and undernourished children.

The officers of the society are as follows: F. A. Hover, president; J. K. Furst, first vice president; Mrs. J. L. Stratton, second vice president; J. G. Nothdurft, treasurer; Miss Della A. Glenn, executive secretary; directors, R. A. McKinney, J. K. Furst, Mrs. C. A. McCready, F. A. Hover, Mrs. J. L. Stratton, T. A. Gilkey, Dr. C. C. Green, Miss Anna I. Gilliland, J. O. Rodgers and J. G. Nothdurft.

All of the officers of this association wish to thank the Girl Reserves for their part in sending out the seals. The girls prepared the 8,000 letters which are being sent out.

Willie Stevens Proves Surprise

Refuses To Become Rattled While On Witness Stand At Trial

ANSWERS QUESTIONS WITHOUT HESITATION

(International News Service)

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 24.—"Willie" Stevens, transformed overnight into a new and intriguing personality, resumes the witness stand today at the Hall-Mills murder trial to undergo further cross examination by the prosecutor for the state.

No longer "Willie, the nut," passed the adjective "eccentric"; inapplicable the appellation "clown."

He may be the mostly widely advertised volunteer fireman in the world and he may have worn a red hat and run errands for the firemen for nothing and he may have done other things that made him "copy" for reporters, but as a witness for himself, his rating is 100 per cent.

He proved that to everybody's satisfaction in the hour and forty five minutes he was on the stand late yesterday. He proved to be the best witness of the trial to date and more than 100 have testified. "Willie" is no funny man on the stand. Nothing at all peculiar about him, except perhaps his looks. When he opens his mouth, to use elegant English, he "says something."

"Absolutely not", "I recollect nothing concerning that, sir", and "positively not," were just a few of the replies that "Willie" made to the bristling little prosecutor Alexander Simpson, who seemed to realize he had struck a tartar in "Willie." He even corrected Simpson. It is "The Rev. Mr. Hall," not Dr. Hall, Willie told him.

"Willie," denying "absolutely" that he was a member of the murder squad that is alleged to have slain the Rev. Edward W. Hall and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills in De Russey's lane on the night of September 14, 1922, told a clear, lucid story of what he did on the night of the crime.

The chap who takes hair tonic internally usually finds that his thoughts go wool-gathering.

Westminster College Recess Lasts From This Afternoon Until Next Monday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 24.—Thanksgiving recess at Westminster college will begin at 4 p. m. Wednesday and continue until 4:30 p. m. Monday. Many of the students who live in distant cities started for their homes Tuesday. Few will remain in New Wilmington.

Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of the college, will use the vacation period to advantage. He will leave this afternoon for Philadelphia, where he will be the guest of his son Charles, a graduate of Westminster with the class of 1926 who is now studying law at the University of Pennsylvania. Joseph McFate of New Castle is "Chuck's" room mate.

During the course of his visit Dr. Wallace will not be inactive. He will preach at the Germantown U. P. church Sabbath morning and will probably speak in the evening. He will return home Monday.

The president will have company on the road as he will take with him a number of students whose homes are in Philadelphia. They are Miss Florida Lindsay, Dean and Douglas Anderson and Eric Groetzinger.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persisent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)
